

JURY DECIDES HOUSER'S CASE

Secretary Of State Was Not Guilty Of Trying To Bribe Commissioner Host.

VERDICT WAS EXPECTED BY ALL

Houser Will Remain On The Lenroot Slate As Their Can- didate For a Third Term As Secretary Of State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 7.—The acquittal of Secretary of State Walter L. Houser on the charge of attempted bribery preferred by Commissioner of Insurance Zeno M. Host, at the instigation of Senator James A. Frear, was the signal for the beginning of another momentous political contest in Wisconsin. The jury in Houser's trial declared him not guilty Friday evening, and directly the acquitted secretary of state went to his office in the capitol and issued a statement denouncing the charge, which had been unsuccessfully brought against him as a plot, "the most dastardly conspiracy ever made up against any man" and charged that it was the work of his political enemy, Commissioner Host, who sought to "get even" for legislative opposition from Houser, and of his political rival, Senator Frear, who is a candidate against Houser for the republican nomination for secretary of state.

SECRETARY OF STATE W. L. HOUSER, ACQUITTED LAST EVENING

Will Stay in Race
Coupled with this charge was the announcement of Houser's determination not to withdraw as a candidate. He is known here as the most shrewd politician in the capitol, now that La Follette is not a member of the state administration, and it is said that a month ago, when the exposure of Host and Frear was recent, Senator La Follette served notice on Houser that he must demand a trial and if vindicated by acquittal, La Follette would continue to stand by him. Houser's friends believe that his demand of a trial ending as it did in acquittal of the criminal charge of offering Host a bribe of $2,000 for a decision for the Equitable Life, will operate to help him attract votes in the primary election in September, and at the same time work to "kill off" Houser's opponent, Senator Frear, who caused Host to be subpoenaed as a witness to make the exposure of the alleged offense. Others profess that the fact that such a criminal charge was brought, even though Houser was not sent to prison for it, will injure him as a candidate. One reasonable possibility is that C. O. Marsh of Antigo, a dark horse candidate for secretary of state, may win out.

Was Acquitted
Walter L. Houser, secretary of state, walked out of the court vindicated before the law of the charge of attempted bribery. Later in the evening he expressed himself upon the verdict and announced his determination to seek vindication before the voters of the state in the primary the complaining witness, Insurance Commissioner Host, that he had told the attorney general that Houser had attempted to bribe him, the two, who had stood before for conviction acknowledged that they cared no longer to stand out, as the accusations stood practically without corroboration, and were ready then to write on a verdict of not guilty. Then another juror suggested that if they remain out a little longer they could have a fine dinner at the Park hotel. Accordingly they agreed to draw the "square meal" and when they consumed their after-supper cigars they formally agreed upon their verdict of not guilty. After the court had been informed that the jury was ready to report, and the several attorneys and the defendant had been brought into court, the jury came in and rendered the verdict of acquittal.

Wreathed in Smiles
The face of Foreman Albert Meyer of Black Earth was wreathed in smiles as he blurted out "not guilty" and handed to the clerk the formal written verdict.

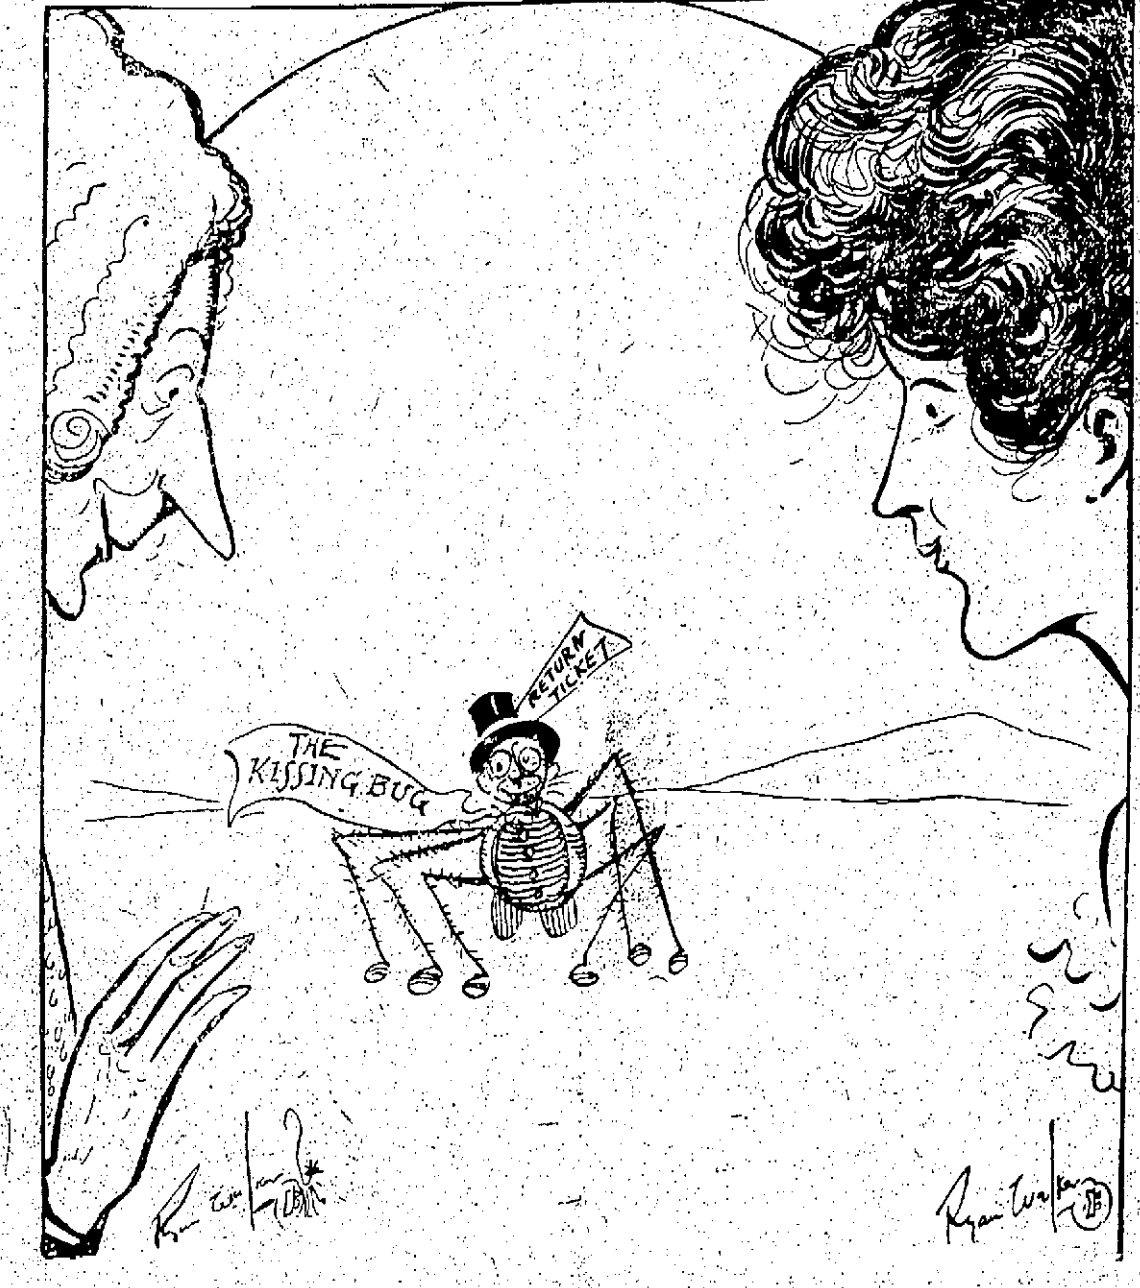

Secretary Houser was warmly congratulated by his numerous friends in court and later in the evening many called upon him at the capitol.

No Statement
Commissioner Host was seen at the insurance department, but said he had no statement to give out. In conversation he appeared to be by no means disappointed that the verdict had been in favor of his fellow state officer, and he said: "I simply did my duty and told the story truthfully when compelled by subpoena to do so. I never acted in bitterness or malice." Attorney O'Connor, who as my attorney knew of this before he became attorney for the insurance investigating committee, is the one who caused it to be made public.

CONGRATULATIONS ON BIRTH OF HEIR

Roosevelt Sent Message of Congratulations to German Crown Prince.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin, July 7.—President Roosevelt's congratulations to the Crown Prince and Princess Frederick William on the birth of a son have been transmitted to Emperor William, the Crown Prince and Princess.

Reunion of Cambrians
Now Castle, Pa., July 7.—Cambro-Americans of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio held a largely attended reunion here today. The program included singing and athletic contests and addresses by a number of noted speakers.

The Old Maid and the Young Maid—How delightful! Here's Mr. Kissing-Bug back again! News Item.—The Kissing-Bug has returned again this summer.

RUSSIAN EMIGRANTS CAN COME DIRECT

Steamship Line Between Libau, Via Rotterdam, To New York Has Been Inaugurated.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Petersburg, July 7.—The trans-Atlantic service of the Russian volunteer fleet will be inaugurated tomorrow with the sailing of the steamship Smolensk from Libau, via Rotterdam, for New York. The Smolensk will be followed by the St. Petersburg and the Saratov. When the service is fully established there will be regular semi-monthly sailings between Libau and New York.

JOE CHAMBERLAIN AT SEVENTY STILL BIRMINGHAM'S IDOL

Member Of Parliament Since Thirty-Two Years Of Age And England's Greatest Colonial Secretary.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, July 7.—Birmingham is preparing for a grand celebration of Joseph Chamberlain's seventieth birthday, which occurs tomorrow. Despite the vicissitudes of his political career during the past few days, Mr. Chamberlain remains the idol of his home city, which he has represented in parliament continuously for thirty years.

In 1863 (when thirty-two years old) Mr. Chamberlain began his political career. For five years he was an agitator, chiefly in support of a national education entirely free from denominational control. Ten years later he was unanimously elected president of the Birmingham school board, which, next to that of London, is the most important in Great Britain. Thrice elected mayor of Birmingham, he reformed, swept clean, lighted, and set in order this important city, deservedly earning the highest reputation as a municipal administrator.

After having unsuccessfully contested Sheffield in 1874, he was returned to parliament for Birmingham in June, 1876. At the general election of April, 1880, Mr. Chamberlain was returned for Birmingham with Mr. Munz and Mr. Bright, and when Mr. Gladstone formed his ministry he was nominated president of the board of trade, with a seat in the cabinet.

After the formation of Mr. Gladstone's cabinet in 1886 (in which he was president of the local government board), Mr. Chamberlain resigned owing to disagreement with his leader on home rule for Ireland, and at the general election of 1886, when he was returned from West Birmingham without opposition, he stood as a pronounced Liberal-Unionist, and severed all connection with the Gladstonian party. In 1887, he visited America on the Fisheries commission, returning to the United States the following year, when he married the only daughter of W. C. Endicott, a member of President Cleveland's cabinet.

Upon the elevation of Lord Hartington to the peerage as Duke of Devonshire, Mr. Chamberlain became the leader of the Liberal-Unionist party in the house of commons, and discharged the duties of this position faithfully and ably. Upon the change of government in 1895, Mr. Chamberlain had his choice of position and he decided at once to take the colonial secretaryship. With keen insight he saw in this post the opportunity of his political life.

He recognized that the defeat of the Home Rule party had kindled an imperial sentiment throughout the length and breadth of the British empire. England had had "great" prime ministers, "great" foreign secretaries, "great" war secretaries, but it remained for Chamberlain to become the first "great" colonial secretary. He believed thoroughly in colonial expansion and development and in uniting England's possessions to her by that irresistible tie of sentiment which is lighter than air and stronger than steel. He bent every energy and his consummate genius of construction to this end and upon the success of this work rests his world-wide reputation as a statesman and an administrator.

ANOTHER MURDERER TO ELECTRIC CHAIR

Lithuanian Accused And Convicted Of Slaying Wife Will Die At Charlestown, Mass.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Boston, Mass., July 7.—In the same electric chair in which Charles L. Tucker was electrocuted a month ago in the Charlestown prison, a second murderer will be put to death early Monday morning. The condemned man is John Schildlofski, a Lithuanian, who murdered his wife at Belmont, July 12, last year. After the crime the murderer fled to the west and was found in Colorado some six months afterward. His defense at the trial was insanity.

LAND FRAUD AGENT IS SENT TO A JAIL

Man Who Bunkoed the Government Given Two Years to Consider the Crime.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Portland, Ore., July 7.—S. A. D. Piter has been found guilty of conspiracy to defraud the government of public lands and was sentenced to two years in jail and fined seventy-five hundred dollars.

TRANSPORT THOMAS NOT YET OFF REEF

Army Ship, Struck Near Island of Guam With Many Passengers and Much Valuable Freight.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., July 7.—According to advices received here today the army transport Thomas is still on the reef of the Island of Guam, but is in no danger. The vessel carries a large amount of Philippine gold, ten army officers, four trained nurses, and seventy-nine civilians.

CLAIM ARRANGEMENT NOT SECRET REBATE

Judge Landis Defers Action On Motion For New Trial Of Alton To Listen To Arguments On Such Plea.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, July 7.—Judge Landis today deferred action on the motion for a new trial of the Alton Railway rebate case until Wednesday, in order to allow the defense the privilege to show that the arrangements between the packing companies and the railroad was well known among shippers and not secret rebate system.

SECRETARY TAFT AT OYSTER BAY TODAY

Is Confering With President Roosevelt On Several Very Important Matters.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Oyster Bay, July 7.—Secretary of War William H. Taft came here today to go over a large number of important matters with the President.

Michael Brady of St. Louis was elected president at the convention of the International Brushmakers' association.

JOHN D. TO CELEBRATE HIS BIRTHDAY ABROAD

Will Be Sixty-Seven Years Old Tomorrow--No One Ever Had A More Wonder- ful Business Career.

John D. Rockefeller, the most talked of man in America, will be sixty-seven years old tomorrow. Mr. Rockefeller is at present enjoying his first holiday abroad, apparently not worrying over President Roosevelt's threatened intention to prosecute the Standard Oil company for violations of the anti-trust laws. According to cable reports Mr. Rockefeller says he has had no connection with the Standard Oil company for the past twelve years. He will sail for home, however, within the next ten days and will be here in ample time to look after the interests of the great monopoly of which he was the creator and the principal beneficiary.

.....

Inasmuch as the supreme crisis in Mr. Rockefeller's affairs came in 1875, when he was in desperate straits, and owed vastly more than he could pay, if forced by his creditors, the solid growth of his present vast fortune, whether it be a billion, as some assert, or only half as much, should be considered a matter of only about thirty years—three short decades. Yet he is undoubtedly the richest man in the United States, possibly in the whole world. The growth of the Rockefeller interests; the evolution of the Standard Oil company; its variegated history; the railroad rebates upon which it thrived and waxed fat; the fierce wars made upon it by state and national officials; the indictment of its officers in Texas a few years ago; the attempt on the part of the state of Kansas to compete with it; the campaign waged against it by the state of Missouri; its extension to every continent and how it has made scores of millionaires—these things have been the subject of more ephemeral and permanent literature, probably, than any other business enterprise since the world began.

.....

How Would You Like To Be John D.?
At sixty-seven years of age John D. Rockefeller is estimated to be worth $600,000,000, according to the figures of careful investigators. Last year Mr. Rockefeller was worth $502,000,000, showing a gain for the present year of $48,000,000. In 1900 he had only $400,000,000, and in the year before that he was poorer still, $250,000,000, representing his total wealth. In 1895 he had $100,000,000, in 1875, $5,000,000, and in the year before he was virtually bankrupt.

When the huge snowball of Rockefeller's present fortune of $600,000,000 rolls down the years, gathering as it goes, the wealth of former Midases will appear as mere complacencies. His income this year, as above stated, is estimated at $48,000,000. This is $4,000,000 a month, $164,380 a day, $4,688 an hour, $114.16 a minute, $1.92 a second. And this is for every second of the year. The calculation for thirty-three years—Mr. Rockefeller's physician says he has every prospect of living to be one hundred years old—is startling. If his millions continue to increase at the present rate, Mr. Rockefeller at the age of one hundred years will be worth about $25,000,000,000. This is almost three times as much gold and silver as there is in circulation in banks and in all the treasure houses and mints on earth today.

.....

BULGARIA MAY BECOME A NATION WITH A KING

Prince Ferdinand On Nineteenth Anniversary Of Ascension To Ruling Seat, Is Very Hopeful.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Vienna, July 7.—Nineteen years ago today Ferdinand of Coburg was elected Ruling Prince of Bulgaria by the national assembly. The anniversary finds him apparently as far removed as ever from a realization of his ambition to have Bulgaria proclaimed independent and himself elevated to the kingship. Prince Ferdinand recently sent his premier Gen. Petroff to those European chancelleries personally interested in the status of the Balkan principality to gain their consent to the proclamation of Bulgarian independence. The mission was a failure.

At the same time the European cabinets regard the aspirations of that man who would be king with growing concern, as they recognize that he might any day set fire to the Balkan powder barrel and cause an international conflagration.

The position of Prince Ferdinand and his government is an anomaly in the Balkans. Their present status is utterly incongruous with the importance of the political tumult of which they are periodically the center. Russia, which at present is ready to seize any opportunity to divert attention from her own internal strife, is known to be in favor of Bulgarian independence. England also believes that the Balkan question would be greatly simplified if the interested powers could treat directly with Ferdinand as king instead of being obliged to approach him through his overlord, the Sultan of Turkey. France and Italy would probably fall into line with England in the matter. The insurmountable obstacle in the way of Prince Ferdinand's ambitions lies with Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary. The venerable emperor has a strong personal dislike for Prince Ferdinand. This was intensified when the latter, in order to ingratiate himself with the czar, not only violated solemn pledges which he had made to the Vienna government in connection with the conclusion of a treaty of commerce, but likewise offended the religious sentiments of Francis Joseph by causing his eldest boy, Prince Boris, to be converted from Catholicism to the Russian church. These two things, together with the scandals which have disgraced the court of Sofia, notably in connection with the murder of Stambouloff, who was a friend of Austria, so enraged Francis Joseph that he declined for some years to have anything to do with Prince Ferdinand, declaring that the latter was not the kind of a man whom any gentleman could afford to shake hands.

ASKS FOR DESIGNS FOR BIG WAR SHIP

United States Government Will Seek Bids For Largest Boat Afloat.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., July 7.—Secretary Boneparte has issued a circular inviting the ship designers and ship builders to submit plans for the twenty thousand ton battleship, authorized by congress. The naval bureau are also instructed to prepare like plans for comparison with those of private bidders.

FATALLY BURNED BY PEROXIDE OF SODA

Strange Accident Happens in Chicago This Morning on Crowded Street.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, July 7.—Almost completely involved in flames which started by the accidental combustion of a package of peroxide of soda in his pocket, William Schoen ran through Jackson boulevard today, pursued by a large crowd anxious to catch him and extinguish the flames. Schoen finally was seized by a policeman who tore the burning clothes from his body. He was fatally burned.

MISS REID IS NOT TO MARRY A TITLE

Associated Press Is Asked to Deny Report She Is to Be Wedded Soon.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, July 7.—The Associated Press is authorized to deny the report of the engagement of Miss Jean Reid, daughter of Ambassador Reid, to Viscount Acheson.

Buy It In Janesville.

THE STORY OF CLASSIFIED TOWN

CHAPTER XXIV

In every home throughout the land, From humble cot to mansion grand, In loft or closet you will find Discarded things of every kind.

Look through the house without delay; We'll show a way to make it pay. Some cast-off clothes you'll find, maybe, Perhaps a bed or stove you'll see.

What you don't want some person may Have use for now—this very day. They may have something you require, And you can trade if you desire, Or a deal for cash you can arrange Through a Gazette ad, classified "Exchange."

(To be continued tomorrow.)

Barker and Exchange

WANT ADS.

WANTED.

BOARDING at 203 S. Main street, seven meals for $1.

WANTED immediately—Four or five waitresses for same hotel as above. Also girls for private houses. Mrs. E. M. McCarthy, 275 West Milwaukee St.

WANTED—Live, vigorous man, with some experience in real estate and $500 in cash to enter established firm doing a good business. Splendid opportunity for rise. Address 414 Gazette.

WANTED—Six girls to operate sewing machines and for general work. Steady employment. Lewis Knitting Co.

WANTED—Boards at 222 Washington St.

PARTNER WANTED—In a general store, to purchase interest of silent partner; $500 required. Business in a village of 500, not over 10 miles from Janesville. In the best part of southern Wisconsin. A safe investment for a good living with profits. The closest investigation asked. All letters unsolicited. Full particulars. Address: Genetia Merchandise, care Gazette, Janesville.

WANTED about August—Good 8-room house, centrally located, on car line. State location and price. Address: P. G. B. Gazette.

WANTED—Position by married man, to work on farm around Janesville or Rockford, for respectable people. Cannot do much milking. Address: J. Scheller, 222 Superior St., Aurora, Ill.

WANTED—Energetic, trustworthy man to work in a Wisconsin, representing large manufacturing company. Salary $40 to $50 per month, paid weekly, expenses advanced. Address with stamp, J. H. Moore, Janesville, Wis.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Outside corner offices now occupied by Metropolitan Life, in 4-story block, Main and Milwaukee streets. Inquire of C. S. Flaherty.

FOR RENT—An eight-room house, with all modern conveniences. In third ward. Inquire of Wilson Lane, Hayes block.

FOR RENT—Modern steam heated flats. Hardwood floors, bath, gas, etc. All newly decorated. Inquire at Grand clothing store.

FOR RENT—A six-room house on Center avenue. City water, gas, hard wood floors, bath room and all conveniences. Inquire at 200 Center avenue.

FOR RENT—House at 64 Chatham street, at large rents. Inquire at 2 S. Franklin street.

FOR RENT—A nicely furnished front room. In Milwaukee St., second floor.

FOR RENT—House on corner of Wheeler and P. Main street, after July 20. Inquire of D. Conner, real estate agent.

FOR RENT—House and barn, 271 S. Main St. Inquire at Kemmerer's livery.

WANTED TO RENT—Five or six room house for occupancy Aug. 1st. Address F. A. L., 55 Dodge St.

FOR RENT—Part of whole of house, 100 Prospect Ave. Inquire at 17 Milton Ave.

FOR RENT—A six room house, with bath, city water, and soft water. Inquire at 159 Prairie avenue.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A fine thirty acres near Clinton, Wis., with all improvements. See for particulars. Inquire of H. A. Mott, Clinton, Wis.

FOR SALE—A modern up-to-date house just finished, in the second ward. Sold on easy terms. Here is the bargain you are looking for. Scott & Sherman.

FEW BARGAINS—We have a number of bargains that can be bought cheap, also vacant lots. If you are looking for a home, call and see us. We have a large list of property to sell from, and will give you a square deal. Money to loan at 5 per cent on good security. If you are looking for a home, farm, investment or loan, we have them.

For Rent—Several good houses, well located. Also, four good modern flats. For particulars call on

SCOTT & SHERMAN
Real Estate Loans & Fire Ins., 21 West Milwaukee St., Phone 144, both phones.

FOR SALE—Chas. K. Baker piano player but slightly used, good as new. C. & L. Gazette.

FOR SALE—A rubber tire stanchion; Dutch bolt make, used but two seasons; as good as new. Price $75. M. W. Smith, 17 Logan Ave., city.

FOR SALE—One black mare, nine years old, and colt three weeks old. Inquire at F. H. Winslow's grocery, 30 N. Main St.

FOR SALE—Sweet peas. Better than ever. J. T. Filiberti, 219 Milton avenue. Telephone 738-L.

FOR SALE—Loose and baled timothy hay. Cheap; one-half mile north of county farm. A. G. Russell.

FOR SALE—A fine building lot on Maple Court, 1st ward. Splendid view of river and city. Price right. Bennett, Litts & Co.

MISCELLANEOUS

TRADE—Two fine quarter sections of land well improved, to trade for residences. Good business property or stock of hardware. J. T. Johnson, Ulen, Minn.

LOST—A pair of eye glasses and fountain pen, Saturday afternoon at Athletic Park. Find or please leave at Gazette office and receive reward.

TECHNICAL POSITIONS OPEN

We need at once competent Architects, Chemists, Draughtsmen, Superintendents, Civil Engineers, Mechanical, Marine and Mining Engineers to fill positions paying $5,000 a year. Good opportunities for men having money to invest with their services. Over 2,000 employees rely on us for all their high grade men. Offices in 12 cities. High grade exclusively. Write us today and state position desired.

HARPOODS (Inc.), Brain Brokers

1013 Hartford Bldg. Chicago.

...FORTY YEARS AGO...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday, July 1st, 1866.—Commemoration Week at Beloit.—We learn that many of our citizens proposed attending the coming commemoration at Beloit College. The exercises will be as follows:

Tomorrow, Sunday, the Baccalaureate sermon, and in the evening, Address before the Missionary Society. Monday evening, lecture before the Archæan Society. Tuesday afternoon Prize Declamations. Tuesday evening Orations and Poem before the Alumni. Wednesday the exercises of the graduating class. The Light Guard Band of Chicago, we hear, furnished the music. The proceedings will undoubtedly be pleasant and profitable to those who are present, and their attendance will be an encouragement to this truly noble institution.

Suburban News In Brief

EDGERTON OBSERVED FOURTH GLORIOUSLY

Day Was Filled With Entertainments—Janesville Horse Races—Palmyra Won Ball Game.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, Wis., July 1.—Edgerton, with the help of 5,000 or more visiting friends, celebrated the Fourth in the glorious manner. The day's program was full. The amusements for the morning, beginning at 9:30, on Fulton street with the foot races. The result is as follows:

100-yard dash—1st, M. Cook, $5; 2d, B. Eldridge, $2; 3d, J. Erwin, $1.

100-yard dash for boys under 15—1st, V. Benson, $2; 2d, T. Benson, $1; 3d, M. Tracy, $50.

75-yard dash for boys under 14—1st, O. Stanke, $2; 2d, J. Harrison, $1; 3d, L. Girard, $50.

Three-legged race—1st, Cook and Whitford, $2; 2d, Benson Bros., $1; 3d, Erwin and Eldridge, $50.

Shoe race—1st, O. Stanke, $2; 2d, W. Gilbertson, $1; 3d, T. Greenwood, $50.

100-yard special—1st, M. Cook, $2; 2d, T. Whitford, $1.

The Edgerton Cornet band furnished several selections, and Deerfield supplied a clown band which added much to the amusement of the morning.

The Geo. Hall circus of Evansville showed during the entire day and was liberally patronized. At 10 o'clock Prof. Richards made a fine ascension in his balloon from a point near the depot, ascending nearly half a mile before coming down in safety near the brickyard. The down-town part of the program being completed, all proceeded to the driving park where Judge Grimm of Jefferson delivered the address of the day. Following this came the ball game between Palmyra and the home team, Palmyra winning by only three points in the eight innings played, making the game a close one all the way through. The races furnished the afternoon entertainment and the following is the summary:

2-18 Pace—Purse, $200.
Poquette, F. Nelson, 2 1 1 1
Glen Eden, E. Fess, 1 2 4 4
Chas. Howe, C. Schaller, 3 3 2 2
Dutch A. J. Conway, 4 4 3 3
Time—2:23; 2:24; 2:24; 2:24.

2-25 Trot—Purse, $125.
Mike Wilkes, C. H. Bliven, 1 1 1 1
Just The Thins, J. Conway, 2 2 2 2
Time—2:29; 2:26; 2:26; 2:26.

2-40 Trot and Pace—Purse, $75.
Argyle, Oso, C. Mabbett, 1 1 1 1
Mark Allerton, J. Conway, 2 2 3 3
Agnes Wilkes, T. Westlake, 3 3 2 2
Time—1:32; 1:34; 1:34; 1:35.

An open air band concert, and a dance at Academy hall concluded the day's festivities and all seemed to be pleased with the day's entertainment.

Mrs. and Mrs. Wirt Wright are spending a few days at Chicago and Libertyville.

Anna Nelson has resumed her duties at T. A. Perry's store after enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

The family of Andrew Jensen has gone into camp at Lake Waubesa.

Chas. E. Mabbett and N. P. Mabbett are attending the races at Libertyville this week.

Miss Elsie Carmell of Milwaukee spent a few days of the week with local friends.

Misses Hazel and Caroline Biederma were Elkhorn visitors during the week.

High Sweeney and family are spending the week with relatives in Iowa and Minnesota.

A. E. Stewart spent the Fourth in Broadhead.

O. J. Jensen is attending the races at Libertyville this week.

Mrs. H. J. Stangl left Monday for a couple of months in Denver.

Lizzie Maas of Orono & Schmidt is enjoying her vacation. Miss Hazel Coon assisting during her absence.

Mrs. Dr. Morrison is a Chicago visitor this week.

The baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pearson was taken suddenly ill on Tuesday evening and died the following morning. Funeral was held from the home on Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Pearson have the sympathy of the entire community.

The Misses Johnson of Evansville are spending the week with local relatives.

Mrs. Ralph Lindercher of Broadhead is passing the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Trevorrah.

T. A. Perry is enjoying a couple weeks' outing in the mining district in New Mexico where his son Oscar is employed.

John Copley was a Chicago visitor on Tuesday.

Maimie Mooney of Janesville is a guest at the Ley home on Albion St.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Chandler of Oregon were guests of Dr. H. A. Keenan on Monday.

ORFORDVILLE.

Orfordville, July 1.—Nearly every one from here spent the Fourth in Broadhead.

Chas. Rider of Janesville spent

LA PRAIRIE.

La Prairie, July 1.—The L. M. B. St. will meet at the Grange hall Tuesday, July 10.

The picnic at Tiffany on the Fourth at Spicer's grove was much enjoyed and a large crowd from surrounding towns.

Miss Christina Scott is recovering from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Weirick and family of Janesville spent the Fourth with their father, C. W. Stark.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McArthur and daughter of Beloit were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spicer the Fourth.

The tea parties given by Mrs. Fannie Cummings at her pleasant home on two afternoons last week were very much enjoyed by the ladies present.

Mr. J. W. Coaroy is confined to the house with sciatica rheumatism.

The Grange will meet Saturday evening of this week.

A number from here attended the picnic at Emerald Grove the Fourth.

Miss Clara Stark returned to Chicago Thursday, after spending a few days with local relatives.

Mr. Cyrus Schenck has returned

$100 REWARD.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Catarrh of the Urinary Tract is the most positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional treatment. Catarrh of the Urinary Tract is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It is the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing this, the system is cured. There is no cure in its curative powers that they offer the Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: P. J. CLEGG & CO., Toledo, O.

Farm and Acre Property.

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

home from a five weeks' visit in the Windy City.

The tobacco in this vicinity is all set and looking fine.

The Conroy Bros. orchestra played for five parties last week.

Mrs. Fannie Bler is entertaining her brother from Chicago.

J. W. Frost and family spent Wednesday in Beloit.

Lax-ets—only 5c.

A Perfect Bowel Laxative for constipation, bad breath, bad taste, indigestion, sour stomach, coated tongue, biliousness. LAX-ETS act promptly, without pain or griping. Pleasant to take—pleasant in effect. For sale everywhere. Beware of cheap imitations. Sold by PHARMACY.

WANTED

Buyers and Sellers of Real Estate, Farms, Etc.

We can bring buyer and seller together to the advantage of both. We advertise your property free for one year, if necessary.

FOR SALE—A first-class dairy and stock farm of 815 acres in Grant Co., Wis., 1 1/2 miles from town on the Burlington R. R.; 200 acres under plow, 50 acres seeded to rye, 40 acres clover and timothy; good bearing orchard and garden with small fruit; all in good state of cultivation; balance in pasture and meadow, with good running water and well fenced; a good 7-room house with hydrant in kitchen; good milk house, 10x18, with cement tanks, will hold milk from 40 cows; with spring water flowing continually; good sheep barn, 16x34; 2-story granary 18x32; corn crib 16x32; driveway between granary and crib; hen house 14x16; hog house 16x32; hog house 16x30, with cook room and corn crib; barn 52x64, stalls for 12 horses, stalls and feed racks for 70 head of cattle, water piped from never failing spring at an elevation of 200 feet; hydrants at house and yard; will be sold on reasonable terms; price, $25 per acre.

A List of City Property.

FOR SALE—House of 7 rooms, barn, well, gas, cistern, newly papered and painted, both inside and out, all in first-class repair, two blocks from street-car line, 1st ward. Price, $2,000.

FOR SALE—Fifth ward 3-room house and large lot, with barn. City water, cistern and gas; all in good repair. Price, $1,500 per month. Price, $2,500.

FOR SALE—10-room house and barn, one lot, with city water, cistern, bath room, electric lights; close to street cars. All in first-class repair. Price, $2,500.

FOR SALE—On the corner of 2nd and 3rd streets, a well located hotel business, with 23 rooms, furniture well used about one year, cost $1,000. 75 regular boarders, for quick sale. $600 takes everything.

FOR SALE—2-room house, bath, gas, city water, cistern, on Holmes St., 4th ward. This is a modern house, well built and nicely finished. Good location. Price, $2,300.

HOUSE AND LOT—In third ward, large lot, good location, small barn; you can have this for $700. Terms to suit.

SEVEN-ROOM HOUSE AND BARN—First ward, well and cistern, nice fruit trees. All in good repair. Good location; nice home for rent. Price, $2,500.

FOR SALE—9-room house and 6x8 rod lot on Washington street, first ward. City water and cistern, gas, and a steam heating furnace, one of the best makes, cost $400. Good location. Two water closets in good repair. Lot alone would bring $1,500 without any of the improvements. Price, $3,400.

FOR SALE—2-room house, large lot, and good barn, third ward, 2 blocks from South Main street; a nice house in good repair, very nice, slightly location, city water, cistern, gas, a very cheap place. Price, $2,250.

FOR SALE—We have three splendid lots, two on Forest Park boulevard and one on Jefferson avenue, fine location on car line, at $350 each; now is the time to get first choice.

FOR SALE—House, barn, well, cistern, gas and city water on street, and 3 acres of fine land, facing two streets; on car line, the two lots facing Washington street are worth at least $1,200 and the others would be cheap at $300 each; it will make in all 2 1/2 large lots; now is the time to get this property cheap; it's good to be sold. Price, $3,000.

FOR SALE—A dandy little home in the 2d ward, two blocks from street car line. 7-room house, barn, lot, nice fruit for family use, a fine place for the price, $1,700.

Farm and Acre Property.

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

Hair-Food

It does not have life enough; that's the trouble with your hair! There is something wrong with the hair-bulbs. They are slowly starving! Then feed them at once! Give them a regular hair-food—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It checks falling hair; keeps the scalp healthy and free from dandruff. A little of it often does great things for the hair and scalp.

J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Special Sale of Trimmed Millinery Begins Monday, July 2nd.

A final clearance of a number of the best trimmed hats of the season, such as were formerly priced at $3.50, $4, $4.50 and $5—all on sale at a choice, $2.

The high character of the styles shown in the millinery department is a sufficient guarantee that these are correct, and an opportunity such as this is sure to meet with a quick response. As first selections are best, it would be wise to come early. About a hundred hats in the lot and at one price for a choice—$2.

The Suits at $10.50

are selling. Such values are out of the ordinary and the offering of a big line of nobby tailored Suits which were formerly up to twenty-five dollars at a choice for $10.50, is an event of interest to many women. Many weeks yet to wear such suits and at the price the purchase is easy. Come and look.

Simpson DRUGGISTS

the best hard wheat per acre on land that can be bought for $10 and $20 per acre; your first crop pays for your farm; and then you are independent; no landlord to divide with any more; no crop failures; none of those damp chilly winds that we have in Wisconsin; very healthy for both man and beast; the greatest money-making country in the world today; extensive every first and third Tuesday of each month; call and see us for particulars.

FOR SALE—Farm of 73 acres, town of Beloit, Rock Co., nice level land, well located, six-room house, barn and tobacco shed combined; granary, corn crib, well and windmill. Every foot of this farm is tillable land. Close to school, 1 1/2 miles to creamery and railroad track. This farm can be bought for $60 per acre.

FOR SALE—Farm of 25 acres, new house and barn; good land; a nice little home, 2 1/2 miles from Footville and 7 miles from Janesville; land in high state of cultivation.

FOR SALE—Farm of 93 acres, 5 1/2 miles from Janesville on Rock Prairie; good house, large barn, horse barn and lots of other outbuildings; 5 acres of extra good timber land in high state of cultivation. Price $100 per acre.

FOR SALE—109 acres, 2 1/2 miles from Sharon, Walworth county. This is a nice piece of land. Buildings are poor, but the price is very low for this farm, only $45 per acre. This is a great bargain for some one.

FOR SALE—10 acres, in city limits. Good house and barn; a large number of apple trees just beginning to bear. All kinds of berries and lots of them; good land. Price, $2,800.

FOR SALE—10 acres of extra good black land; good house, good barn, tobacco acre and other crops. Close in on good street. Price, $2,000.

FOR SALE—Farm of 80 acres, 1 mile from Janesville, in Lincoln county; dwelling, horses, barn and tobacco shed combined, and other outbuildings; watered with well and nice spring creek; in good state of cultivation; reason for selling, old age. Price, $40 per acre.

FOR SALE—20 acres, one mile west of city, with house, barn; tobacco shed for 500 lbs. of tobacco; good well; best land for home and tobacco. Within one-half mile of landing station. A bargain.

FOR SALE—20 acres just outside of city limits, both black land; fourteen acres in cultivation, six acres pasture; a fine fruit, poultry and tobacco farm. Large brick house in good repair; good barn; large acreage; tobacco; and other houses; good well and windmill; two large cisterns; lots of fruit of all kinds. Located on main traveled road. This is a splendid land for truck gardening, in state of cultivation. Owner's reason for selling is to get larger farm.

FOR SALE—OR EXCHANGE—160 acres of heavy timber, land in Lincoln county; Wisconsin; about 80 acres of tillable land; balance low pasture land; has fine buildings; 9-room house, built in 1901; all in fine shape; new barn, built in 1899; is 22x40; with other outbuildings, all in good repair; land in fine state of cultivation; this is a bargain for someone.

FOR SALE—Canada lands, improved and unimproved farms in the best part of Canada, within one and two hours' drive of the city of Winnipeg, the largest city and best market in Manitoba, the bread-basket of the world; 35 to 40 bushels of

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

FOR SALE—Farm of 108 acres;

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE

Business Office Open Saturday
Evenings.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Fair and warmer tonight.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Daily Edition—By Carrier: One Year $6.00
One Month $1.00
One Year, cash in advance $5.00
Six Months, cash in advance $3.00
CASE IN ADVANCE $4.00
Six Months $2.00
One Year—Daily delivery in Book County $1.50
One Year—Daily delivery in Book County $1.50
WEEKLY EDITION—One Year $1.50
One Year, cash in advance $1.00
Business Office $7.75
Editorial Rooms $7.75

"Many old camels carry the skins of the young ones to the market."—Talmud. And many an older merchant may perform that function for his younger, "cock-sure" competitor. If the older man has "learned things" about advertising as his years have passed.

It would appear as though Mr. Housh thought that Mr. Host was a most revengeful sort of a man anyway.

Brodhead has demonstrated that a town of its size can get up a good celebration and please the public generally.

The publishers of Indian Territory are trying to make it compulsory that the school children read the daily papers.

The Newport, Rhode Island, Mercury has reached the ripe age of one hundred and forty-nine years. It still is published each day.

Why not have a "home-coming" in Janesville on Fourth of July, 1907? It is a far cry, but it is the early bird that catches the worm.

The Milwaukee papers are full of the half million dollar hearing of the defendants in the Pfister Hotel suit against the Free Press and others.

Even though the junior senator has come and gone again his rapid fire eloquence does not appear to have awakened the echoes of patriotism for Mr. Lenroot.

The University of Wisconsin intends to hand out ready made newspaper men every year from now on. They forget that newspaper men are born and not made by machinery.

There is an editor down in Missouri who used to publish a daily paper, then he published a semi-weekly, then a weekly and now he publishes a paper when he gets time and he still holds his subscription list.

The press that printed the Mormon bible back when the last century was young, has been sold for five hundred dollars to the Mormon church. This was probably four hundred and ninety-five dollars more than it was worth to anybody but a Mormon.

If there is anything the Milwaukee Journal does not know all about why not have it framed and hung up so it can be known of. Politics, religion, railroading, everything is handled with the same ease and skill as though they really did know what they were talking about.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

Some one said recently that "doing nothing is an apprenticeship to doing wrong." A new definition for idleness, and yet so true to the experiences of life that it will not be questioned.

One of the weaknesses of a long continued era of prosperity, such as the country is now enjoying, is the disposition to get out of life a good deal more than we put into it, and while the experiment is not new, the scheme is being worked to larger extent today than ever before.

Efforts along this line are not confined to any particular class of people. The disposition to "get something for nothing" is largely universal. When developed in its worst form it leads to crime, and theft and forgery result.

State prisons and reformatories shelter a large number of people who are victims to this form of aggravated covetousness, and a much larger number, equally guilty, remain unpunished, because not detected.

The short commandment, in the mosaic decalogue, "Thou shalt not covet" was written expressly for people who believe that the world owes them a living, and who have no scruples about how it is secured.

The best protection to character, along this line of temptation, is work, work, work, for the busy mind and weary body have neither time nor inclination to devote to covetousness.

The best inheritance that can come to a boy of twenty-one is a well developed body, a carefully trained mind, and a heart that beats warm and true with human sympathy. Add to these qualities an ambition and disposition to work, and chances for success are better than stocks or bonds or a liberal bank account. The latter, if inherited, cost nothing in the way of effort, and like everything else that comes without toil, is seldom appreciated.

It is a popular notion, these days, that the twenty-four hour day should be divided into three periods of eight hours each, and an equal amount of time devoted to work, sleep and recreation. A very plausible theory and one that is advocated strenuously by organized labor.

The time for sleep and recreation is not emphasized so strongly as the short work day, but this is regarded as imperative, and the national government, as well as state legislatures, is asked to adopt the new schedule and set the pace for the industries of the country.

Should the government and states recognize this unreasonable demand results would be demoralizing in the extreme, for organized labor, represents but a fragment of the labor of the country, and the great mass of toilers with hand and brain are not only satisfied with existing conditions, but they possess common sense enough to know that they rise of life, in every department, are along the pathway of unrelenting time, so far as the length of the day is concerned.

More than this they have discovered that work is the greatest blessing that comes to humanity and that eight hours of recreation, six days in the week, is more demoralizing than profitable.

The men who are filling responsible positions today and who are in the line of advancement, are found in the ranks of the masses, where no iron-clad rules regulate the length of a work day.

The men who own their own homes and have accumulated a bank account are found in the same company, where freedom to work untrammelled by rules and regulations, seldom falls in reward.

The brain workers of the country with a single exception, belong to the masses and the only complaint ever offered by this class is that the days are too short to accomplish the work in hand. The "single exception" is found in Chicago, and is known as the teachers' federation. This organization is notorious for a lot of foolish ideas and, with a school board in sympathy, is now attempting to introduce union text books into the city schools.

It is about time that the citizens of Chicago commence to realize the danger ahead. If the teachers' labor union is given full swing the next generation will demand a half holiday six days in the week, and work will become so unpopular that the average Chicago citizen will have neither time nor disposition to devote to it.

One of the hardest working men in this country is Thomas A. Edison, the great inventor and discoverer. He is frequently so absorbed in work that time passes unnoticed, and a twenty-four hour work day without sleep or rest is no uncommon experience.

Mr. Edison is a light eater and devotes but little time to sleep. He believes that people are intemperate in both eating and sleeping, but seldom intemperate in work. In a recent interview he said:

"The country is food drunk. The fact is that people eat too much, sleep too much and don't work enough. The average man would be much better off and would do very much better work if he would cut down his food and sleep, and labor a little harder.

"Men eat and sleep themselves stupid. Sometimes they eat and sleep themselves into the grave. They talk about working too hard. That is absolute nonsense. Generally speaking, a man can't work too hard. As for sleep, that is another prevailing form of intemperance. People sleep too much. They drug themselves with sleep. If a man will only try to get along with less sleep he will be surprised to discover how little he really needs. And he will find his faculties very much improved by the effort.

"It is not so much the quantity as the quality of sleep that counts. The man who lies eight or ten hours in bed, tossing about from time to time, doesn't get anything like as much rest as the man who sleeps soundly for five hours.

"We are slaves to sleep. Why, for instance, should we go to sleep at night? The only difference between night and day is that the sun goes down in one case and comes up in the other. What difference should that make? I suppose it is simply habit acquired through thousands of years of ancestry. We have become like the chickens, who go to roost when it is dark."

Mr. Edison may not be regarded as good authority, as but few people would attempt to follow him in his habits of living and working, but he is right when he says that "generally speaking a man can't work too hard." The devil has the reputation of being an idler, and it was said of him a long time ago, that his satanic majesty devotes a good deal of time to hunting up mischief for idle hands. Better keep busy, for the devil will catch you if you don't watch out.

PRESS COMMENT.

Likes A Good Fight. Sheboygan Journal: President Roosevelt's Fourth of July speech, summarized, is as follows: "I enjoy a good scrap, no matter whom I'm fighting."

Far From The Caidron. Milwaukee News: In view of the lifting of the lid since he got safely off with the senatorship, no doubt Mr. La Follette finds the atmosphere of the chautauques more satisfactory than the smell of Madison.

Would Run Him Anyway. Oshkosh Northwestern: The Milwaukee Free Press seems to favor the idea of running President Roosevelt for another term, whether he wants to or not. Has The Free Press changed its opinion of "peerless leaders?"

Hopelessly Outclassed. Evansville Review: Heretofore we have made the statement that The Review only one dollar a year was the only religious paper in Rock county, but when The News, Beloit, commences to publish Sunday school songs in its Saturday's daily, we drop out and yield the honor to that paper.

Happy Days For Bob Also. Chicago Record-Herald: "There is good fighting ahead in the next ten years for a man in public life."—Senator La Follette. Inasmuch as the senator from Wisconsin seems to like nothing better than a good fight these must be happy days for him.

More Dangerous And As Cheap. Indianapolis News: Airships, it is now promised, will soon be on the market at $1,000 each. Why fritter away your installments on an automobile when you can get an even more dangerous machine for the same price?

Uncle Sam, Big Spender. La Crosse Leader-Press: No country except the United States could appropriate the enormous total of $80,000,000 at one session of its governing body and keep off the rocks of financial disaster. That does not prove, of course, that it is a good thing for this nation to spend so much.

Proven Anew. Hartford Times: The nasty Thaw-White tragedy in New York proves anew that people who pursue the paths of decency and practice the domestic virtues are likely, in the last analysis, to get a deal more satisfaction and happiness out of the game of life than are the "high rollers."

'Twill Be Good For Him. Fond du Lac Commonwealth: If it should come to pass that young Mr. Thaw will be required to spend the summer in the Tombs, it will afford him an excellent opportunity to reflect upon his rather eventful, but utterly worthless past, the fruits of which are bitter to the taste, but as certain as death itself.

Coolness Of Modern Lovers. London World: The modern lover does not excite himself much. One would like to impart a little more enthusiasm to the young man of the period. He sends jerky, slangy messages to his lady love, he does not really worry, if he does not see her daily, and he would not forego a golf match on her behalf if he could possibly avoid it. He never appears to be radiantly happy.

La Crosse Takes Circus Seriously. La Crosse Chronicle: The Ringlings advertised that their doors would be opened yesterday at one o'clock p. m., and upon the faith of that announcement thousands of people had gathered at that hour expecting to be promptly admitted. The immense crowd was kept waiting, however, until nearly two o'clock, which was a piece of side-show trickery that cost the management of the show heavily in the esteem and good will of the people of this city and the surrounding country.

La Follette To The Rescue. La Crosse Leader-Press: Senator La Follette, now that congress has adjourned, is expected to begin without delay the campaign for the nomination of Irvine L. Lenroot for governor. Mr. Lenroot is badly in need of the powerful assistance of his mentor. Though a strong and earnest young man, he appears to have made little headway against the more popular Governor Davidson, and without a diversion on the part of Mr. La Follette, there would be little chance of defeating the present governor at the primaries. The effect of the entrance of Mr. La Follette into the campaign cannot be safely predicted. He has wonderful influence with the people of Wisconsin, who have been accustomed to hear and heed his call in a number of hard fought campaigns. Whether a majority of Wisconsin republicans is so devoted to him that it will accept his advice now against a man known to have been one of his trusted lieutenants for years is a question to be decided within the next two months.

In the meantime the appearance of Senator La Follette in the campaign will revive interest in it and will tend to equalize it. It will at the very least prevent Governor Davidson having a walkover for the nomination.

Enthusiasm And Something Else. Stevens Point Journal: The delegates who went from Stevens Point to the democratic convention at Milwaukee, came home filled with enthusiasm. It is currently reported that delegates from other parts of the state went home filled with something else. That, however, is probably a partisan slander, but be it as it may, it is well to let 'em all feel good as long as they can. Next fall when the votes have been counted they will find themselves almost as deep in the soup as they were two years ago. There is no objection to self-appointed delegates getting together and having a good time and "resolving" and "viewing with alarm" all sorts of things, but Wisconsin is not a democratic state—not by a large majority.

New Material For Paper. Chicago Chronicle: There is an interesting report to the effect that somebody has discovered a process by which the stalk of the cotton plant, heretofore a waste product save as it may be devoted to fertilizing uses, can be converted into paper of excellent quality by the same processes that are now applied to wood pulp and other materials and with little or no modification of paper making plants. It is estimated that general use in this way of the cotton stalk will add $100,000,000 annually to the product value of the cotton stalks, will put an end to the boll weevil, bring along with the paper made four or five byproducts, of paying value and greatly check the destruction of forests in paper making. If these claims shall be half justified by the event the discoverer will deserve to be ranked among the great benefactors of humanity.

BELOIT BOY DROPPED DEAD AT BRODHEAD

Eighteen-Year-Old Harry Mackey Dies Suddenly on the Street Yesterday.

Harry Mackey, an eighteen-year-old resident of Beloit, "dropped dead" on the streets of Brodhead yesterday morning while watching the parade of Home-Comers. Young Mackey had been in Brodhead since the Fourth his old home, Indiana, being but a few miles away. Since last winter he had suffered with consumption and a sudden hemorrhage ended his life. His remains were taken to Beloit for burial.

CHOLERA SITUATION STILL UNCHANGED

But One American Has Died in Manila in the Past Forty-eight Hours.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Manila, July 7.—The cholera situation is unchanged, Joseph McDermott is the only American who died in the last 48 hours.

OBITUARY

Miss Mollie McGowan. The mortal remains of the late Mollie McGowan of Johnstown were tenderly laid at rest in Johnstown cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral services were held from the home of her brother at half past two and Rev. Mr. Ross of the Rock Prairie Union Presbyterian church was the officiating clergyman. The pall bearers were four cousins of the deceased—Robert Hadden, Archie Hadden, Frank Clark and William Clark.

Colorado Bankers. Glenwood Springs, Colo., July 7.—Among the addresses presented at the sessions of this, the second day of the annual convention of the Colorado Bankers' association were the following: "Banking From a Director's Standpoint," Philip B. Stewart, Colorado Springs; "Women in the Banking Business," Mrs. M. E. Miller, Lafayette; "Commercial Honor," K. R. Babbitt, Colorado Springs. The convention will conclude late this afternoon with the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Baron Komura to Visit Canada. Yokohama, July 7.—Among the passengers sailing today on the Canadian Pacific steamship, Empress of Japan, is Baron Komura, recently appointed Japanese ambassador to the court of St. James. Arriving at Vancouver, Baron Komura will make a leisurely trip across Canada, taking passage at Montreal for England.

Candidate for Congress. Asheville, N. C., July 7.—Republican of the tenth congressional district held their convention here today and nominated J. J. Britt, assistant district attorney, to make the race.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

The work of selecting a jury in the Hargis case was resumed at Beattyville, Ky., yesterday. It is not believed that the hearing of witnesses can be begun before next Tuesday.

Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, will attend the annual convention of the dairy and food commissioners at Hartford, Conn., July 17, and deliver an address explaining the new pure food and meat inspection laws.

The secretary of the navy has sent letters of commendation to William Kelly, coxswain, and William Stenmer, boatswain's mate, of the U. S. S. Columbia, for gallant conduct, promptness and self-sacrificing heroism displayed in the rescue of the life of a shipmate at Guantanamo bay, Cuba.

LINK AND PIN

St. Paul Road. Edwin Mead, general storekeeper at the round-house, will begin a two weeks vacation tomorrow. He intends to spend the greater part of the time at his cottage up river.

Engineer James Gregory is soon to take a vacation.

Engineer Royal Mead is relieving Engineer W. Wilkerson on the New Glarus branch.

North Western Road. Fireman Budeson of the Madison division is relieving Fireman Mann.

Engineer James Clark has reported for work in the freight pool.

Engineer Manning is off duty, being relieved by Engineer McMahon.

Operator P. B. Long went to Chicago this morning.

Operator Carl is laying off, being relieved by Guy Bingham.

Fearful of Coming Trouble.

The wives of two musicians met on the street one day, says the Ponca (Okla.) Courier. One was pushing a baby carriage containing three babies triplets. The other, just over her honeymoon, congratulated her upon such bliss. Upon which the proud mother attributed it to the fact that after returning from their honeymoon the band serenaded them, playing "Three Little Maids from School." The young bride held up her hands in holy horror and exclaimed: "My goodness! That same band serenaded us and played the sextet from 'Floriadora!'"

RED HOT BASE BALL

Pecatonica Maroons vs. Eagles

Eagle Park, Fair Grounds, July 8th, 3:30 P. M.

One of the fastest amateur base ball teams in this part of the country is the Pecatonica Maroons. They have lost but one game this season. The Eagles have been masters in every game thus far, and the meeting of these two adversaries will be well worth seeing. It will be the best game of the season up to the present time. Admission 25c.

AIDED by recent achievements of modern science and these applied with all the experience and wisdom that has been gained through three-quarters of a century of study, the stands today in the front rank of the Pianos of the world.

FISCHER PIANO

If you seek active proof of this, turn to the record of 125,000 Pianos made and sold, figures not approached by any other maker.

If tone-quality, touch, durability and elegance of design were not at their highest perfection could such a record exist?

Our long-time, small-payment plan makes possession easy.

Write for Catalogue.

164 Fifth Avenue, near 22d Street and 68 West 125th Street New York

Want Ads bring business.

HOMES FOR THE STRICKEN.

Rent Free For a Year Proposed by Pittsburg Real Estate Men.

If plans recently set going can be carried out 1,000 stricken families will be carried free from San Francisco to Pittsburg, where they will receive homes rent free for one year and at the same time heads of the families will have all the work they can do in order that they may once more get a start in life, says a Pittsburg special dispatch to the New York Times.

This novel plan of helping the destitute in the far west was decided on by several real estate men and persons with money. John Murphy, a banker, made the public announcement that he would give ten of his houses rent free for one year to families from the coast and would also give steady employment not only to the heads of these families, but many more that might come with the others. Mr. Murphy had several long conferences with other business men and said recently:

"We have decided to ask the California Relief Road association here to work with us in this plan for helping the people of stricken California. If they will spend part of the money turned in for help in bringing to Pittsburg 1,000 families who want to leave the coast, we will give them their houses rent free for a year. I have not many houses but I will donate ten for the year. The many men I talked to today are in favor of my plan, and I am satisfied that it will be a go. There are thousands in San Francisco who want to get away from there now—to leave the region forever, but they have lost their all, and now is the time to set them up in homes and in work. There is $20,000,000 worth of building alone planned for Pittsburg this summer, and we shall be scarce of help."

Belgian Girl's Invention.

Miss Ernesta Carston De Lhis, a Belgian girl, 15 years old, has just patented an invention which is claimed will revolutionize many kinds of traction. A turntable fixed by any vehicle is the origin of her idea, and by means of her device any vehicle—automobile, car, cart, etc.—driven by any power can at once reverse. Belgian government engineers are considering the young inventor's scheme with a view to purchasing the rights for their country.

Coke Oven Waste.

It is calculated that in making coke in the common beehive ovens used in the United States, between 350,000 and 400,000 tons of ammonium sulphate, every pound of it valuable for fertilizing purposes, is wasted yearly. In Germany most of the coke is made in improved ovens which save this by-product.

Want ads bring good results.

100 LATE TO CLASSIFY

Adhesive, harmless, invisible, satin skin complexion powder is best for you, because best made. 25c, 4 tins.

White Wool Skirts...

Twenty-five samples in today in mohair, serge and panama.

$3.75 to $10, one third less than regular price.

Millinery at Cut Prices...

The June Sale starts this week. An immense stock of untrimmed straw hats, of laces, of veiling, of braids, of ribbons, of everything in the line of millinery, at one-half less than formerly, and bear in mind that this refers to up-to-date goods and of styles that are right. Our trimmers will take the same care in executing orders, and nothing, no matter how cheap it may be, will be slighted. Come to us for Millinery this month and you will be amply repaid.

Remarkable Waist Values...

50 dozen new white waists have been added to our stock, and we place them on sale in two lots—

89c and $1.19.

The line consists of waists formerly priced at $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50.

Orchard & Co.
DRY GOODS, CLOAKS, MILLINERY

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THESE SPECIAL OFFERS

UNDERMUSLINS.

GOWNS worth $1.00 to $2.50 at $1.85, $1.19, 85c

DRAWERS worth 50c to $2.50 at 77c, 59c, 39c

CORSET COVERS worth 50c to $1.75 at 77c, 59c, 39c

Any woman having a MUSLIN UNDERWEAR want will reap much benefit by buying garments made like ours are, of reliable muslins and cambrics at such prices.

WASH COTTON GOODS

4 GREAT LOTS, values 10c to 75c at 4c, 8c, 19c, 29c

Immense variety to select from, light, medium and heavy weight materials.

Summer Parasols

20 beautiful styles in White Novelties, just received—A bewitching array.

Children's Parasols

Pretty creations from 25c to $2.00.

This Proposition Is Now Up

Can we longer afford to overlook the fact that we can secure the very best of dental service at about half the rates we have been paying? Dr. Richards of Janesville, the independent dentist, says he would be delighted to have his work (put out at a modest price) compared with work done by others at possibly double his prices. He affirms that the comparison will establish the fact that:

His work is good in every respect. His work is lasting. His work is done thoroughly.

His work is substantial, and, in fact, not excelled by that of any other local dentist.

In addition to the reasonableness of his prices he gives close attention to painless work. Now see what you get by having him do your dental work.

THOROUGH WORK—with an ABSENCE OF PAIN—at a MODEST PRICE.
Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Cleaners & Dyers

Ladies Waists, fine Dresses and Spring Jackets Chemically Dry Cleaned.

Janesville Steam Dye House
Carl F. Brockhaus, Prop.
59 East Milwaukee St.

STAR OF AMERICA

A cigar made of the finest tobacco to meet the demand of the particular smoker. It's made in two sizes, 10c straight and, 3 for 25c.

J. L. SPELLMAN
Manufacturer.

BUY YOUR SUNDAY PAPERS

AT LEFFINGWELL'S, N. Main Street.

"The Ideal" Barber Shop
Titt's Old Stand.

Cleanliness is one of the things we make a specialty.
MERT J. BRENNAN
PROP.

JULY EDISON RECORDS

They're all in now, and we never had a better lot. Come in and hear them.

KOEBELIN'S
Jewelry and Music House,
Hayes Block.

First National Bank

Capital $125,000
Surplus & Profits $100,000

DIRECTORS
L. B. CARLE, H. RICHARDSON,
S. O. COBB, THOS. O. HOWE,
Geo. H. RUSSELL, J. P. LOVETZ,
J. G. REXFORD.

Three per cent interest paid in our new Savings Department.

Deposits made during the first fourteen days of July 1906 will draw interest from July 1st.

PASTEURIZED MILK

is delivered to you in hermetically sealed bottles, which is a guarantee to you that it has not come in contact with any impurities after being Pasteurized.

Isn't this worth something?

JANESVILLE PURE MILK CO.
Gridley & Craft, Props.

YOUNG MAN WILL SUCCEED TAYLOR

J. H. EDWARDS, AGED THIRTY-ONE, ASST. SECY. OF TREAS.

COLORED JOSEPH FORAKERS

Negro Offspring Named After Senator Who Secured Equal Passenger Rights for All Races.

(By William Wolff Smith.)
Washington, D. C., July 5.—(Special Correspondence.)—The unique distinction of having several hundred negro children named for him has fallen to the lot of Senator Foraker of Ohio. This came about through the part taken by the Ohio senator in having an amendment incorporated in the railroad rate bill providing that all persons who pay the same compensation shall receive equally good accommodations upon railroad trains. Since the provision became a fixture in the bill and has become generally known, Senator Foraker has been flooded with letters from negroes in southern cities saying their offsprings have been named in his honor and will now bear the name of Joseph Benson Jones or Jackson, as the case may be.

In view of the fact that congress has passed the free alcohol bill which permits the use of denatured alcohol in the arts and sciences and for mechanical purposes without the payment of tax, it is interesting to note how alcohol is denatured in Germany. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes will visit England and Germany this summer to make a personal investigation of the subject and on his return will draft the regulations which will govern the use of untaxed alcohol in the United States. The new regulations will go into effect on January 1st, 1907.

For most industrial purposes alcohol is used in Germany duty free after having been "denatured" or rendered unfit for drinking purposes by admixture in the presence of a government official with a prescribed percentage or proportion of one or more of several different substances prescribed in the very elaborate statute which governs the complicated subject in Germany. There are two general classes of degrees of denaturing, viz., the "complete" and the "incomplete" according to the purposes for which the alcohol so denatured is to be ultimately used.

Complete denaturation of alcohol by the German system is accomplished by the addition to every one hundred liters (26.4 gallons) of spirits: (a) two and one-half liters of the "standard denaturizer" one part of parts of wood alcohol, one part of pyridin (a nitrogenous base obtained by distilling bone oil or coal tar) with the addition of fifty grams of each liter or oil of lavender or rosemary; (b) one and one-fourth liters of benzol; with every one hundred liters of alcohol. Of alcohol thus completely denatured there was used in Germany during the campaign year 1904-05, 321,406 hectoliters denatured by process (A) as described above, and 52,674 hectoliters which had been denatured by process (B). This made a total of 374,080,505 gallons of wholly denatured spirits used during the year for heating, lighting and various processes of manufacture.

Incomplete denaturation, i. e., sufficient to prevent alcohol from being drunk, but not disqualifying it from use for various special purposes for which the wholly denatured spirits would be unavailable, is accomplished by several methods, as follows: The quantity and nature of each substance given by the prescribed dose for each 100 liters (26.4 gallons) of spirits: (c) five liters of wood alcohol or one-half liter of pyridin; (d) 20 liters of solution of shellac, containing one part gum to two parts alcohol of ninety per cent purity (alcohol for the manufacture is denatured); (e) by the addition of one kilogram camphor or two liters of oil of turpentine, or one-half liter benzol to each one hundred liters of spirits.

Alcohol to be used in the manufacture of ethers, aldehydes, acetone, white lead, chrom-silver, gelatins, photographic papers and plates, electrode plates, collodion, salicylic acid, and salts, aniline chemistry and a great number of other purposes is denatured by the addition of ten liters sulphur ether, or one liter of benzol, or one half liter oil of turpentine or 0.025 liter of animal oil. For the manufacture of varnishes and inks: alcohol is denatured by the addition of oil of turpentine or animal oil and for the production of soda, soaps by the addition of one kilogram of castor oil. The price of denatured alcohol varies in the different states and provinces of the empire in accordance with the yield and consequent market price of potatoes, grain and other material. At the present time alcohol of 95 per cent purity, which is the quality ordinarily used in Germany for burning in stoves (6.67 to 7.80 cents) per liter (1.66 quarts) and at retail for 33 pfennigs (7.55 cents) a liter.

On July 1st Mr. J. H. Edwards became assistant Secretary of the Treasury in place of H. A. Taylor, the retiring assistant secretary. Mr. Edwards is only 31 years of age, but is well versed in Treasury Department matters and his friends have no hesitancy in declaring that he will fill the place with distinction and satisfaction. He is a native of Ohio, having been born in Charleston, and has always been connected with banking matters. While in Ohio he was first a bank clerk and later assistant secretary of the Ohio Bankers Association. Mr. Edwards first came to Washington in 1897 as the private secretary of Congressman Weaver, which position he vacated to become private secretary to the late Postmaster General Payne in 1901. He remained with Mr. Payne until the spring of 1903, when he accepted an offer from Secretary Shaw to become his private secretary on the resignation of Robert B. Armstrong, whom Mr. Shaw elevated to the Assistant Secretaryship of the Treasury in charge of the customs service. As an appreciation of his good work, Mr. Shaw requested the President to appoint Mr. Edwards to the place of Assistant Secretary Taylor, to which the President acquiesced and on July 2nd Mr. Edwards will have the general direction and supervision of the following bureau, offices and divisions: Office of the Supervising Architect, Office of the Chief Clerk and Superintendent of the Treasury Department, Office of Internal Revenue, Bureau of Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, Office of the Live-Stock Service, miscellaneous division and the division of mail and files and the Revenue Cutter Service.

Secretary Shaw has designated Mr. Arthur T. Statter as his private secretary. Mr. Statter was an intimate friend of Mr. Shaw, previous to the latter's selection as Governor of Iowa, but of late years has been associated with Senator Anthony of Washington in the dual capacity of private secretary and editor of his paper in Walla Walla, Washington.

TWO CATERERS FOR GOLF CLUB-HOUSE

Chester Morse and Doane Wright Anxious to Take Charge—Match Play For Bradley Trophy Tuesday.

As soon as Mrs. Frank Blodgett, chairman of the house committee, returns to the city action will be taken on the proposition of Chester Morse and Doane Wright to handle the culinary department at the golf club house. They have the promise of assistance from Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Morse in carrying on the work and in all likelihood will be granted the privilege. Tuesday is club day and the ladies will have their first round of match play for the Blodgett trophy. The first round of the handicap match for the Bradley golf cup will also be played by the men. As P. Burnham who qualified in 81 will be absent from the city, and his absence permits both Edward Bauman and W. G. Wheeler, who qualified in '90, net score, to take part. The sixteen players are matched with the following handicaps: Frank Fifield, who made the lowest net score—77 in the qualifying round, handicap 8, and Fred Schaller, 10; H. G. Carter, 8; and Frank Farnsworth, 16; Al Schaller, scratch, and H. K. King, 12; O. Sutherland, 8; and Charles Schaller, 10; Leo Brownell, 4, and Harry Hagart, 12; J. P. Baker, 8, and Geo. Baumann, 10; J. L. Wilcox, 12, and Edward Bauman, 12; Wilson Lane, 12, and W. G. Wheeler, 16.

On the lawn fronting the home of Miss Susan Jeffris on South Jackson street at 6:30 last evening the Loani Band and gentlemen guests enjoyed a tempting repast served on long tables. No regular missionary program had been arranged, but Rev. R. C. Denison made a brief address appropriate to the occasion and several hours were devoted to a social good time.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bostwick and daughter departed today for Chicago, where they are to board the steamer Northland for a trip to Buffalo. The outing will include a visit at Niagara Falls, Toronto and other Canadian cities, and a trip through the Thousand Islands on the St. Lawrence.

Chas. H. Smith of this city, accompanied by his brother, S. B. Smith of Independence, Iowa, spent yesterday and today calling on friends in Center, Footville, Spring Valley and Orfordville. The early home of these two was at Footville, coming there in 1844.

Mr. J. P. Thorne entertained a company of friends at cards at her home on South Bluff street last evening in honor of her guest, Miss Eliza Falker, of Amboy, Ill. Miss Falker departed for her home this morning.

Mr. J. G. Rexford and Mrs. W. F. Bosworth entertained last evening at a musicale at the Rexford home given in honor of Miss Henderson of Moscow, Idaho, who is a guest at the home of Bernard M. Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. George Decker and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sherer and daughter, Belle, will leave Sunday morning for a four-day auto trip out through Brodhead, Mineral Point, Plattville and the mining district nearby.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rowlands of Monroe were here this morning on their way to Fond du Lac. Mr. Rowlands represents the Chicago lumber firm of Rittenhouse & Embree in Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Siebert of Chicago visited in the city today. Mr. Siebert is of the firm of S. Siebert & Sons, leaf tobacco dealers, one of the largest in the west.

At the golf links this afternoon a company of young people are enjoying a picnic supper. There is to be a dance this evening and a very pleasant time is anticipated.

The Bridge Whist club was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Helen Nash on West Bluff street. Miss Agnes Shumway won the first prize.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sutherland are expected home from their honeymoon trip today. They will occupy the Arthur Valentine home for a fortnight.

The Misses Harris are entertaining a company of over one hundred ladies at euchre at the home, 158 South Jackson street, this afternoon.

Mrs. M. G. Jeffris and family and Harvey Bailey returned last evening from an outing at Fox Lake.

Miss Edith Riley left this morning for a two weeks' visit with friends in Fond du Lac and Oshkosh.

Mrs. William Funk and daughter have departed for a visit with friends in Milwaukee and Ripon.

Miss Roselle Foast of Eau Claire is a guest of Miss Grace A. Wright, 150 South Jackson street.

Miss Jane Harper of Bellefonte, Pa. is to arrive this evening for a visit with Miss Vera Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shelley and Miss Mahang of Chicago are guests of Harry Thometz.

Mrs. Crosby and Miss Louise Crosby leave for the east today to be gone several weeks.

Miss Janet Ford has returned from a visit of several weeks' duration in Dayton, Ohio.

Society..

Mrs. Harry Carter entertained twenty-four ladies at luncheon at the Country club yesterday in honor of her sister, Mrs. Jane Wheelock of Chicago. Luncheon was served on small tables decorated with nasturtiums at the noon hour and in the afternoon there was a putting contest on the golf greens and cards were played in the club house. In the putting Mrs. Charles Fifield took the prize and at cards the first trophy fell to Mrs. Wheeler. Those present were: Mesdames Frank L. Smith, Geo. McKee, Victor Richardson, D. W. Watt, W. H. Greenman, W. H. Judd, C. S. Jackson, Chas. Putnam, A. P. Burnham, John Rexford, M. G. Jeffris, Fred Capelle, Wilson Lane, W. G. Wheeler, Chas. Fifield, Will Sherer, W. T. Vankirk, Ed. Doty, Ed. Carpenter, Mrs. Jane Wheelock, Mrs. Harriet Kavalee, Mrs. Mary Doty, and the Misses Ella Capelle and Isabelle Smith.

Ten Janesville young ladies will spend two weeks at the Howard cottage at Lake Kegonsa this summer. The party will leave July 18 and is to be composed of the following: Laila Soverhill, Louise Bennett, Bessie Gardner, Edith Soverhill, Florence Spooner, Mildred Doty, Maude Spooner, Tassie Nott, Jennie Grander, and Josephine Doty. Miss Jessie Spooner will accompany the young ladies at chapel.

On the lawn fronting the home of Miss Susan Jeffris on South Jackson street at 6:30 last evening the Loani Band and gentlemen guests enjoyed a tempting repast served on long tables. No regular missionary program had been arranged, but Rev. R. C. Denison made a brief address appropriate to the occasion and several hours were devoted to a social good time.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bostwick and daughter departed today for Chicago, where they are to board the steamer Northland for a trip to Buffalo. The outing will include a visit at Niagara Falls, Toronto and other Canadian cities, and a trip through the Thousand Islands on the St. Lawrence.

Chas. H. Smith of this city, accompanied by his brother, S. B. Smith of Independence, Iowa, spent yesterday and today calling on friends in Center, Footville, Spring Valley and Orfordville. The early home of these two was at Footville, coming there in 1844.

Mr. J. P. Thorne entertained a company of friends at cards at her home on South Bluff street last evening in honor of her guest, Miss Eliza Falker, of Amboy, Ill. Miss Falker departed for her home this morning.

Mr. J. G. Rexford and Mrs. W. F. Bosworth entertained last evening at a musicale at the Rexford home given in honor of Miss Henderson of Moscow, Idaho, who is a guest at the home of Bernard M. Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. George Decker and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sherer and daughter, Belle, will leave Sunday morning for a four-day auto trip out through Brodhead, Mineral Point, Plattville and the mining district nearby.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rowlands of Monroe were here this morning on their way to Fond du Lac. Mr. Rowlands represents the Chicago lumber firm of Rittenhouse & Embree in Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Siebert of Chicago visited in the city today. Mr. Siebert is of the firm of S. Siebert & Sons, leaf tobacco dealers, one of the largest in the west.

At the golf links this afternoon a company of young people are enjoying a picnic supper. There is to be a dance this evening and a very pleasant time is anticipated.

The Bridge Whist club was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Helen Nash on West Bluff street. Miss Agnes Shumway won the first prize.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sutherland are expected home from their honeymoon trip today. They will occupy the Arthur Valentine home for a fortnight.

The Misses Harris are entertaining a company of over one hundred ladies at euchre at the home, 158 South Jackson street, this afternoon.

Mrs. M. G. Jeffris and family and Harvey Bailey returned last evening from an outing at Fox Lake.

Miss Edith Riley left this morning for a two weeks' visit with friends in Fond du Lac and Oshkosh.

Mrs. William Funk and daughter have departed for a visit with friends in Milwaukee and Ripon.

Miss Roselle Foast of Eau Claire is a guest of Miss Grace A. Wright, 150 South Jackson street.

Miss Jane Harper of Bellefonte, Pa. is to arrive this evening for a visit with Miss Vera Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shelley and Miss Mahang of Chicago are guests of Harry Thometz.

Mrs. Crosby and Miss Louise Crosby leave for the east today to be gone several weeks.

Miss Janet Ford has returned from a visit of several weeks' duration in Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Charles F. Siebel and daughter, Louise, of Hanover spent Friday in Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Frances from Whitewater are visiting friends in this city.

Miss Marguerite Samuels of Darlington was a Janesville visitor last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Butler of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting friends in Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Button of Milton Junction were Janesville visitors yesterday.

Miss Maud Knippenberg was called to Racine by the illness of her niece.

Mrs. A. J. Harris is expected home this evening from a visit in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Ross King were visitors in Milwaukee yesterday.

Mrs. Arthur Valentine and son are visiting relatives in Danville, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Winans of Chicago are visiting in the city.

Miss Elisabeth Wilcox will spend Sunday in Chicago.

NEW SERIAL THAT IS OF INTEREST TO ALL READERS

Manager of the B. & A. by Vaughn Keeter is Full of Interest to Readers.

In the story of Dan Oakley, the manager of the Buckhorn and Antioch railroad, known as the Huckleberry, his accidents and achievements, his love affair, the awful cloud of a convict father, the strike, his daring rescue of the doomed city and his final happiness, the Gazette offers to its readers one of the prettiest little tales of adventure and love that is often read. One can imagine that the state of Minnesota is the scene of the plot and can almost see the struggles of the manager to keep his road on a paying basis.

FOUR WERE HURT IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

W. A. Leonard, His Wife, and Two Sisters Narrowly Escaped Death in Chicago, July 3.

W. A. Leonard, proprietor of the Lowell department store, whose home is in Riverside, a suburb of Chicago, is in Janesville today. Mr. Leonard, his wife, and two sisters were seriously injured in a frightful runaway accident on the streets of the Windy City the day before the Fourth. As the horses, getting loose from his control, made a wild dash on one of the thoroughfares he was thrown from the careening vehicle heading to the pavement. His wife and one sister jumped and sustained bad bruises and sprains. The other sister remained in the vehicle and as it passed under a tree the canopy was crushed down on her head, inflicting injuries from which she is just recovering. Mr. Leonard was picked up in a semi-unconscious state with a deep triangular cut in his scalp. All the members of the party were confined to their home for several days.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

N. A. Pared is in Milwaukee. Otto J. Koch, of the Koch Advertising Agency, Milwaukee, is in the city today on business and leaves this evening for Plattville.

Joseph E. Crosby, of Grand Rapids, Mich., a former Janesville resident, is visiting with friends in the city.

Laurien Caldwell returned this morning from Colorado, where he has been working as an assistant surveyor.

Miss Grace Dudley left this morning for Madison to spend some time with friends.

Mrs. Chas. McCarthy of Monroe with her son Roy and daughter Myrtle went through here today on their way to Richmond.

Chas. Valentine and Bert Gage left this morning to spend the day at Lake Waubesa.

Mrs. Mary Cressett left this morning for Ames, Iowa, to visit friends.

Archie Withers left this morning to spend a few days in Evansville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kimball returned this morning from an extended trip in the East.

Mark Bostwick returned this morning from a western trip.

Dr. Claude Hollis of Joliet is visiting in the city.

Miss Mate Humphrey will give a lecture on Panama next Tuesday evening at the M. E. church. Admission, 10c. Ice cream will be served afterwards.

LOCAL LAONICS

Who Was the Liar? Major Arthur Cass of the Salvation Army told the large gathering at the Barracks last evening who the biggest liar in Janesville really was. He also touched on politics and matters relative to the Arm and conditions in Janesville.

In Justice Court: Before Justice Reeder in Justice Court this morning the action brought by Harry Thometz against Paul Wieret to recover $197 for the removal of a Dodgeville and use of an electric piano, was argued and adjourned to July 16. Dr. W. D. Merritt secured a judgment against Monroe Armfield for $10 and costs but an action was adjourned for a decision until Wednesday next.

Going Back to Syria: Edward Forzy leaves for Chicago the first of the week. He will travel from thence to Worcester, Mass., and after a short visit there will embark on an ocean voyage for his old home in Syria where he will make an extended visit.

Shurtleff Ice Cream for Sunday Dinner: There's nothing nicer for Sunday dinner than ice cream. Order it from Allie Razook, 30 South Main street. Telephone 639. We have only one telephone number and that is 639.

Buy it in Janesville.

OUTINGS FOR BOYS OF LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

outings for boys—half.

Many Juniors to Camp at Delavan—Older Lads to Go to Geneva—

Other Association News.

The annual summer camp for the Junior department of the local Y. M. C. A. will open at Delavan Lake, July 19, and last ten days. Plans are being made for the strongest and best camp in the history of this department. Boys from 10 to 15 years old are included.

International Boys' Conference. The greatest gathering of boys in the history of the Young Men's Christian Association will convene at the Western Secretariat Summer Resort at Lake Geneva, from August 1st to Aug. 6th inclusive. Some of the leading boys' secretaries of the country will be there and boys from every state in the Union. Wisconsin hopes to have 600 boys, ages from 14 to 18 years old. Members of the association who wish to secure the experience of the boys' work can attend Janesville expects to have ten members present. Each morning is given to the conference work, the afternoon to recreation on the beautiful shores of Geneva. The Y. M. C. A. camp is noted for its fine equipment for athletics, baseball, tennis, golf. Experienced leaders will make every hour interesting and profitable.

Rev. J. H. Tippet to Lead. J. H. Tippet leads the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow. All men are urged to attend. The music, short talks, and all features of this meeting is worthy the time and presence of men. Special effort is made to keep up these meetings during the summer months.

Women on Auto Ride. The Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. are planning for an automobile ride next week. Several men of the city who own fine carriages have entered into the plan with enthusiasm. They will start from the Y. M. C. A. building for half hour rides during the afternoon and evening. The day will be announced later.

For Clerk of Court. To the public: I desire to announce my candidacy for nomination for the office of Clerk of the Court on the republican ticket at the September primaries. WARD A. STEVENS.

NEW TRAIN SCHEDULE

Starting Sunday, July 8, the Chicago train on the north-western road leaving here at nine-twenty-five in the morning will leave at nine, and the train leaving here at six-fifty in the evening will leave at six-thirty. The early through train which left at six-fifteen in the morning will also depart earlier, the time being six-five.

For Clerk of Court. To the public: I desire to announce my candidacy for nomination for the office of Clerk of the Court on the republican ticket at the September primaries. WARD A. STEVENS.

Rock County National Bank

Certificates of Deposit Draw Interest ---at--- 3 per cent if left six months, and 2 per cent if left only four.

They are negotiable payable on demand and draw interest from date of deposit to date of withdrawal.

TO THE PUBLIC. I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the nomination for the office of District Attorney on the republican ticket at the primaries, to be held September 4th, 1906.

JOHN L. FISHER.

Delightful Music at Crystal Springs Park Tomorrow.

21 lbs. best Granulated Sugar $1.00.

1 sk Golden Palace Flour $1.15.

9 lbs. Best Oatmeal 25c.

1 lb. of Walter Baker's Chocolate 25c.

1 lb. can Calumet Baking Powder 15c.

1 lb. Corn Starch 5c.

E. R. WINSLOW

20 North Main St.

Want ads bring good results.

FAIR STORE.

Eggs! Eggs! Eggs!

Strictly Fresh Eggs, doz. 15c. Extra Large Lemons, doz. 25c. 50-lb. Sack Best Flour Made. $1.05 Sugar Going Higher—21 lbs. Granulated Sugar 6c.

1 lb. Cut Loaf Sugar 6c. 1 lb. Powdered Sugar 25c. 10-lb. Sack Graham Flour 25c. 10-lb. Fresh Ground Corn Meal 15c. Good Solid Old Potatoes, bu. 70c. 1 lb. Best Japan Tea in the City 40c. Other Teas, all the way down to 10c.

1 lb. Fig Bar Cookies 10c. 1 lb. Soda Crackers 5c. 1 lb. Ginger Snaps 5c. 3 lbs. Laundry Starch 10c. 3 Pkgs. Corn Starch 10c. 10c. Pkg. Jelly Chips—same as Jelly 5c.

10c. Can Mustard Sardines 5c. 10c. Pkg. 20 Mule Team Borax 25c. Good Size Sweet Oranges, doz. 30c. 1 lb. Shredded Coconut 13c. 10c. Bottle Pickles 5c. Country Rendered Strictly Pure Lard, lb. 10c.

Janesville Chautauqua Assembly

TEN DAYS---JULY 27, 28, 29, 30, 31; AUGUST 1, 2, 3, 4, 5
MOLE'S GROVE, - - - - JANESVILLE

The second year of the Janesville Chautauqua Assembly will be a delightful surprise to those who attend. The complete success of last year's initial Assembly has prompted the management to greater effort and more elaborate preparation for this season's event, and in anticipation of increased attendance have strengthened the program by adding about $500 to the numbers over last year's offerings.

The Assembly grounds and the entire institution will be placed in the best condition for this season's Assembly, and many new features for comfort, etc., will be provided for the public. There is no outing so cheap, healthy and beneficial. A whole family can tent for the price would cost one member to take an ordinary trip, and with a season ticket the cost of entertainment is less than three cents each. The assembly grounds are located on the banks of beautiful Rock River, accessible easily by street car or boat.

Price of season ticket (individual and non-transferable), $1.50. A single day admission (good for all day and evening, providing you stay on the grounds), 25c. Children under six years, when accompanied by parent, admitted free. Children 8 to 15, single admission, 15 cents. Meals, lunches and refreshments will be for sale upon the grounds, at reasonable prices. Tents put up and ready for use the entire time will be furnished by F. L. Clemons, Secretary, or his assistant, Miss Mary Stevens. Those desiring to use their own tents will be furnished ground space for $1.00. Orders for tents should be placed at once. Family compartment tents, 9x19, (3 rooms) $5.00. Family compartment tents, 12x19, (5 rooms) $6.00. Family compartment tents, 14x21, (5 rooms) $7.00.

PROGRAM

FRIDAY, JULY 27.
1:30 p. m.—Opening concert, the Chicago Glee Club.
2:00 p. m.—Opening address.
2:30 p. m.—Lecture, "The Sunny Side of Life," Dr. James Hedley.
4:30 p. m.—Music and Mirth, The Chicago Glee Club.
8:00 p. m.—Full concert, The Chicago Glee Club.

SATURDAY, JULY 28.
2:00 p. m.—Midday concert, The Chicago Glee Club.
2:30 p. m.—Lecture, "What is a Man Worth," Dr. James Hedley.
4:15 p. m.—Readings by Mr. Dixon, music by the Glee Club.
7:30 p. m.—Twilight concert, The Chicago Glee Club.
8:00 p. m.—Illustrated lecture, "A Trip to Wonderland," Alfred L. Flude.

SUNDAY, JULY 29.
10:30 a. m.—Sermon, "The River of God in America," Rev. J. H. Sowerby.
2:00 p. m.—Sacred concert, The Chicago Glee Club.
2:30 p. m.—Sermon, "Base Ball," W. A. Sunday.
4:15 p. m.—Vesper concert, The Chicago Glee Club.
7:30 p. m.—Twilight hymns, The Chicago Glee Club.
8:00 p. m.—Lecture, "Drop It," Sylvester A. Long.

MONDAY, JULY 30.
10:00 a. m.—Morning lecture, "How to Study Your Bible," Rev. J. H. Sowerby.
2:00 p. m.—Midday concert, The Chicago Glee Club.
2:30 p. m.—Lecture, "Lightning and Toothpicks," Sylvester A. Long.
4:15 p. m.—Trombone Quartette, The Chicago Glee Club.

8:00 p. m.—Full concert, The Chicago Glee Club.

TUESDAY, JULY 31.
10:00 a. m.—Morning lecture, "The Divine Image in Man," Rev. J. H. Sowerby.
2:30 p. m.—Full concert, The Dixie Jubilee Concert Co.
4:15 p. m.—Hot Time Melodies, The Dixies.
7:30 p. m.—Twilight concert, The Dixies.
8:00 p. m.—"Uncle Sam's Folks," John B. Ratto.
9:30 p. m.—Moving pictures.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 1.
10:00 a. m.—Morning lecture, "Man's Two-fold Nature," Rev. J. H. Sowerby.
2:00 p. m.—Midday concert, The Dixies.

2:30 p. m.—Lecture, "Weighed in the Balances," Ralph Parlette.
4:15 p. m.—Songs of the Southland, The Dixies.
7:30 p. m.—Modern melody, Mme. Buckner and the Dixies.
8:00 p. m.—Lecture, "The Tripod of the American Republic," Rev. J. H. Sowerby.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2.
10:00 a. m.—Morning lecture, "Magicians and Hypnotism," Rev. J. H. Sowerby.
2:00 p. m.—Midday concert, The Dixies.
2:30 p. m.—"Starbright," Gertrude Goodwin Miller.
4:15 p. m.—Plantation Echoes, by the Dixies.
7:30 p. m.—Folk songs of Dixie, Mme. Buckner and the Dixies.
8:00 p. m.—Lecture, "Living and Laughing," Ralph Parlette.

9:30 p. m.—Moving pictures.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 3.
10:00 a. m.—Morning lecture, "Telepathy and Clairvoyance," Rev. J. H. Sowerby.
2:00 p. m.—Midday concert, The Dixies.
2:30 p. m.—Lecture, "A Century of American Diplomacy," Dr. G. T. Nagle.
4:15 p. m.—Sketches from Life, Gertrude Goodwin Miller.
7:30 p. m.—Songs of "Befo' de Wah," The Dixies.
8:00 p. m.—"Fanchon, the Cricket," Gertrude Goodwin Miller.
9:30 p. m.—Moving pictures.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 4.
10:00 a. m.—Morning lecture, "Non-medicinal Healing and Other Phenomena," Rev. J. H. Sowerby.

2:00 p. m.—Midday concert, The Dixie Jubilee Concert Co.
2:30 p. m.—Lecture, "Acorns and Oaks," Rev. J. H. Malley.
4:15 p. m.—Songs of freedom, the Dixies.
8:00 p. m.—Full concert, The Dixie Jubilee Concert Co.
9:30 p. m.—Moving pictures.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 5.
10:30 a. m.—Sermon, Rev. Gardner W. Thrall.
2:00 p. m.—Sacred concert, The Dixie Jubilee Concert Co.
2:30 p. m.—Sermon, "Sense," Capt. Jas. Malley.
4:15 p. m.—Vesper hymns, The Dixies.
7:30 p. m.—Sacred prelude, The Dixies.
8:00 p. m.—Illustrated lecture, "The Baby Days," Alfred L. Flude.

JANESVILLE CHAUTAUQUA TALENT

JAMES HEDLEY
LECTURER

DR. JAMES HEDLEY
People are to be congratulated in the fact that Dr. Hedley is to be with them for one of his famous lectures during this Assembly. He is one of the foremost figures on the lyceum platform of America. His "Sunny Side of Life" is destined to be handed down as a classic.

W. A. SUNDAY
EVANGELIST

"BILLY" SUNDAY
The most unique personage engaged in gospel and revival work today. His work has been crowned with magnificent success. He has been secured for his great sermon-lecture, "Base Ball," for the Assembly.

JOHN B. RATTO

Mr. Ratto is one of the best of the new entertainers before the public. He has made a thorough study of the foreigner as he really is in this country, and his stories and readings consist almost exclusively of phrases and witticisms, as he gets them from the characters he portrays. His work is illustrated by the use of artistic "make-up."

GERTRUDE GOODWIN MILLER

The reader-actress will be with us for three days, presenting entire plays in monologue and character sketches. Her work is so different from that of the ordinary elocutionist that she is best described as embodying the best from the work of both the player and reader.

REV. J. H. SOWERBY

will have charge of the morning lectures at our Assembly presenting psychic phenomena from an entirely new viewpoint. He studies the question through the light of the Bible, is thoroughly scientific and yet very entertaining. In addition to his morning lectures, he will present popular lectures and sermons during the time of the Assembly.

RALPH PARLETTE
HUMORIST-LECTURER

Parlette is a unique figure on the platform, a copy of nobody. He is aggressive and awkward, humorous, eloquent and full of human sympathy. The lectures he will give most this season are: "Pockets and Paradises," "Weighed in the Balances," and his new address, "University of Hard Knocks."

SYLVESTER A. LONG

will be with the Assembly this season for two lectures. He possesses many of the qualities of the ideal orator—a musical, well-modulated voice of unusual flexibility, a ready command of language and wonderful descriptive powers, making some of his word pictures marvels of beauty and grace.

CAPT. JAMES MALLEY

Has known the sting of poverty and won his way up step by step in the university of hard work. Uneducated at nineteen he afterward worked his way through college, and was later professor of oratory in an institution of learning. As a soldier he won for himself the title of "The Fighting Parson."

ALFRED L. FLUDE

Mr. Flude was with us last year with his illustrated lectures and moving pictures and will be favorably remembered by all. This year he comes to us in the additional capacity of platform manager. He will also present illustrated lectures and moving pictures as before.

REV. W. GARDNER THRALL makes himself one with the people whom he serves. Not satisfied with merely preaching the Word, he brings it into the every day life of hundreds of his parishioners. A magnetic speaker, his lectures and sermons will be among the brightest and best portions of the Assembly program.

FATHER NAGLE

There are few men who come to the public platform with a better mental equipment than Father Nagle. The eloquent abandon of the Celtic race added to the patient study of the scholar, have fitted him splendidly for the position on the platform which he already occupies.

Chicago Glee Club
Male Quartet
Trombone Quartet

CHICAGO GLEE CLUB

A special feature of the work of this celebrated company is their slide trombone quartette. In this novelty feature they combine all the rich harmony of a great pipe organ together with a strength and firmness of tone so necessary to the successful outdoor attraction. This is not only the highest salaried musical organization of the kind upon the Chautauqua platform, but also the best. Its personnel has remained unchanged for more than five years. The pleasing impersonations of Mr. Dixon add a finishing touch to the attraction.

THE DIXIE JUBILEE CONCERT COMPANY

This celebrated company will be at the Assembly for five days. The programs which the Dixie Company present are rich in the jubilee songs of the old South, full of the fervor of the darky camp meeting, and bubbling over with the irresponsible humor of the negro temperament. Mme. Buckner, the well-known soprano prima donna, has a voice of great range and power coupled with remarkable sweetness.

REMINDERS

Bring your rubbers, you might need them.
A sofa cushion comes handy.
Bring your note book and get something to keep.
Make it a point to meet the talent, they are human and enjoy the companionship.
Mail directed to the Chautauqua will be delivered each day. Postoffice will be located at headquarters tent.
Telephone service will be complete on the grounds, both phones, long distance and local service.
Reduced rates will be made on all railroads. For particulars consult agents.

Plans should be made now for attendance. A more enjoyable vacation and outing cannot be arranged. Address communications to F. L. CLEMONS, Secretary, Janesville, Wis.

A FOOL FOR LOVE

By FRANCIS LYNDY

AUTHOR OF "THE CRAFTERS," ETC.

(Copyright, 1906, by J. P. Lippincott Co.)

CHAPTER XI.

It seemed to Virginia that she had but just fallen asleep when she was rudely awakened by the jar and grind of the Rosemary's wheels on snow-covered rails. Drawing the curtain, she found that a new day was come, gray and misty white in the gusty swirl of a mountain snow-squall.

Without disturbing the sleeping Beasts, she dressed quickly and slipped out to see what the early morning change of base portended. The common room was empty when she entered it, but before she could cross to the door the Reverend Billy came in, stamping the snow from his feet.

"What is it?" she asked, eagerly.

"Are we off for California?"

"No, it's some more of the war."

Winton has outgeneraled us. During the night he pushed his track up to the disputed crossing, rushed the guarded engine, and ditched it."

Virginia felt that she ought to be decorously sorry for relationships' sake, but the effort ended in a little peean of joy.

"But Uncle Somerville—what will he do?"

"He is with McGrath on the engine, getting himself—"

McGrath's freman was uncoupling the engine from the Rosemary, and Mr. Darrah, complacently lighting his after-breakfast cigar, came across to the hissing ember fire.

"A word with you gentlemen, if you will favor me," he began. "I am about to run down to Argentine on my engine, and I propose leaving the ladies in your charge, Miss Winton. Will you give me your word of honor, eh, that they will not be annoyed in my absence?"

Winton sprang up, losing his temper again.

"It's well, it's blessed, lucky, that you know your man, Mr. Darrah!" he exploded. "Go on about your business—which is to bring another army of deputy sheriffs down on us. I take it. You know well enough that no man of mine will lay a hand on your car so long as the ladies are in it."

The Rajah thanked him, dismissed the matter with a Chesterfieldian wave of his hand, climbed to his place in the cab, and the engine whirled away around the curve and disappeared in the snow-wreaths.

Adams rose and stretched himself.

"By Jove!" when it comes to cheek, pure and unadulterated, commend me to a Virginia gentleman who has acquired the proper modicum of western bluff," he laughed. Then, with a cavernous yawn dating back to the sleepless night, "Since there is nothing immediately pressing, I believe I'll go and call on the ladies. Won't you come along?"

"Not," said Winton, bravely, and the Technologist lounged off by himself.

Some little time afterward Winton, glooming over his handful of spitting embers, saw Adams and Virginia come out to stand together on the observation platform of the Rosemary. They talked long and earnestly, and when Winton was beginning to add the dull pang of unreasoning jealousy to his other hurtings Adams beckoned him.

He went, not unwillingly, or altogether willingly.

"I should think you might come and say 'Good morning' to me, Mr. Winton. I'm not Uncle Somerville," said Miss Carteret.

Winton said "Good morning," not too graciously, and Adams mocked him.

"Besides, being a bear with a sore head, Miss Carteret, thinks you're not much of a hustler," he said, coolly. "She knows the situation, knows that you were stupid enough to promise not to lay hands on the car when we could have pushed it out of the way without annoying anybody. None the less she thinks that you might find a way to go on building your railroad without breaking your word to Mr. Darrah."

Winton put his sore heartedness far enough behind him to smile and say: "Perhaps Miss Virginia will be good enough to tell me how."

"I don't know how," she rejoined, quickly. "And you'd only laugh at me if I should tell you what I thought of."

"You might try it and see," he ventured. "I'm desperate enough to take suggestions from anyone."

"Tell me something first. Is your railroad obliged to run straight along in the middle of this nice little ridge you're being making for it?"

"Why—no, temporarily, it can run anywhere. But the problem is to get the track laid beyond this crossing before your uncle gets back with a trainload of armed guards."

"Any kind of a track would do, wouldn't it?—just to secure the crossing?"

"I shall be more considerate of the safety of the ladies than you seem to be, Mr. Darrah," he retorted. "You are taking long chances in this game, sir."

The Rajah's laugh rumbled deep in his throat. "Not so very much longer than you have been taking during the past fortnight, my dear seh. But never mind; all's fair in love or war, and we appear to be having a little of both up ahead in Quatz creek, bah?"

Winton flushed angrily. It was no light thing to be mocked before his men, to say nothing of Miss Carteret standing within arms' reach on the railed platform of the Rosemary.

"Perhaps I shall give you back that word before we are through, Mr. Darrah," he snapped. Then to the eddy ing mob-waver: "Tools up, boys. We camp here for breakfast. Flanagan, send the 215 down for the cook's outfit."

The Rajah dropped his cigar, but in the snow and trod upon it.

"Possibly you will favor us with your company to breakfast in the Rosemary, Misteh Winton—you and Misteh Adams. No? Then I bid you a very good morning, gentlemen, and hope to see you later."

And he swung up to the steps of the private car.

Half an hour afterwards, the snow still whirling dizzily, Winton and Adams were cowering over a handful of hissing embers, drinking their commissary coffee and munching the camp cook's poor excuse for a breakfast.

"Jig's up pretty definitely, don't you think?" said the Technologist, with a glance around at the idle track force huddling for shelter under the lee of the flats and the decapod.

Winton shook his head and groaned. "I'm a ruined man, Morty."

Adams found his cigarette case.

"I guess that's so," he said, quite heartlessly. "Then: 'Hello! what is our friend the enemy up to now?'"

McGrath's freman was uncoupling the engine from the Rosemary, and Mr. Darrah, complacently lighting his after-breakfast cigar, came across to the hissing ember fire.

"A word with you gentlemen, if you will favor me," he began. "I am about to run down to Argentine on my engine, and I propose leaving the ladies in your charge, Miss Winton. Will you give me your word of honor, eh, that they will not be annoyed in my absence?"

Winton sprang up, losing his temper again.

"It's well, it's blessed, lucky, that you know your man, Mr. Darrah!" he exploded. "Go on about your business—which is to bring another army of deputy sheriffs down on us. I take it. You know well enough that no man of mine will lay a hand on your car so long as the ladies are in it."

The Rajah thanked him, dismissed the matter with a Chesterfieldian wave of his hand, climbed to his place in the cab, and the engine whirled away around the curve and disappeared in the snow-wreaths.

Adams rose and stretched himself.

"By Jove!" when it comes to cheek, pure and unadulterated, commend me to a Virginia gentleman who has acquired the proper modicum of western bluff," he laughed. Then, with a cavernous yawn dating back to the sleepless night, "Since there is nothing immediately pressing, I believe I'll go and call on the ladies. Won't you come along?"

"Not," said Winton, bravely, and the Technologist lounged off by himself.

Some little time afterward Winton, glooming over his handful of spitting embers, saw Adams and Virginia come out to stand together on the observation platform of the Rosemary. They talked long and earnestly, and when Winton was beginning to add the dull pang of unreasoning jealousy to his other hurtings Adams beckoned him.

He went, not unwillingly, or altogether willingly.

"I should think you might come and say 'Good morning' to me, Mr. Winton. I'm not Uncle Somerville," said Miss Carteret.

Winton said "Good morning," not too graciously, and Adams mocked him.

"Besides, being a bear with a sore head, Miss Carteret, thinks you're not much of a hustler," he said, coolly. "She knows the situation, knows that you were stupid enough to promise not to lay hands on the car when we could have pushed it out of the way without annoying anybody. None the less she thinks that you might find a way to go on building your railroad without breaking your word to Mr. Darrah."

Winton put his sore heartedness far enough behind him to smile and say: "Perhaps Miss Virginia will be good enough to tell me how."

"I don't know how," she rejoined, quickly. "And you'd only laugh at me if I should tell you what I thought of."

"You might try it and see," he ventured. "I'm desperate enough to take suggestions from anyone."

"Tell me something first. Is your railroad obliged to run straight along in the middle of this nice little ridge you're being making for it?"

"Why—no, temporarily, it can run anywhere. But the problem is to get the track laid beyond this crossing before your uncle gets back with a trainload of armed guards."

"Any kind of a track would do, wouldn't it?—just to secure the crossing?"

"I shall be more considerate of the safety of the ladies than you seem to be, Mr. Darrah," he retorted. "You are taking long chances in this game, sir."

The Rajah's laugh rumbled deep in his throat. "Not so very much longer than you have been taking during the past fortnight, my dear seh. But never mind; all's fair in love or war, and we appear to be having a little of both up ahead in Quatz creek, bah?"

Winton flushed angrily. It was no light thing to be mocked before his men, to say nothing of Miss Carteret standing within arms' reach on the railed platform of the Rosemary.

"Perhaps I shall give you back that word before we are through, Mr. Darrah," he snapped. Then to the eddy ing mob-waver: "Tools up, boys. We camp here for breakfast. Flanagan, send the 215 down for the cook's outfit."

The Rajah dropped his cigar, but in the snow and trod upon it.

"Possibly you will favor us with your company to breakfast in the Rosemary, Misteh Winton—you and Misteh Adams. No? Then I bid you a very good morning, gentlemen, and hope to see you later."

And he swung up to the steps of the private car.

Half an hour afterwards, the snow still whirling dizzily, Winton and Adams were cowering over a handful of hissing embers, drinking their commissary coffee and munching the camp cook's poor excuse for a breakfast.

"Jig's up pretty definitely, don't you think?" said the Technologist, with a glance around at the idle track force huddling for shelter under the lee of the flats and the decapod.

Winton shook his head and groaned. "I'm a ruined man, Morty."

Adams found his cigarette case.

"I guess that's so," he said, quite heartlessly. "Then: 'Hello! what is our friend the enemy up to now?'"

McGrath's freman was uncoupling the engine from the Rosemary, and Mr. Darrah, complacently lighting his after-breakfast cigar, came across to the hissing ember fire.

"A word with you gentlemen, if you will favor me," he began. "I am about to run down to Argentine on my engine, and I propose leaving the ladies in your charge, Miss Winton. Will you give me your word of honor, eh, that they will not be annoyed in my absence?"

Winton sprang up, losing his temper again.

"It's well, it's blessed, lucky, that you know your man, Mr. Darrah!" he exploded. "Go on about your business—which is to bring another army of deputy sheriffs down on us. I take it. You know well enough that no man of mine will lay a hand on your car so long as the ladies are in it."

The Rajah thanked him, dismissed the matter with a Chesterfieldian wave of his hand, climbed to his place in the cab, and the engine whirled away around the curve and disappeared in the snow-wreaths.

Adams rose and stretched himself.

"By Jove!" when it comes to cheek, pure and unadulterated, commend me to a Virginia gentleman who has acquired the proper modicum of western bluff," he laughed. Then, with a cavernous yawn dating back to the sleepless night, "Since there is nothing immediately pressing, I believe I'll go and call on the ladies. Won't you come along?"

"Not," said Winton, bravely, and the Technologist lounged off by himself.

Some little time afterward Winton, glooming over his handful of spitting embers, saw Adams and Virginia come out to stand together on the observation platform of the Rosemary. They talked long and earnestly, and when Winton was beginning to add the dull pang of unreasoning jealousy to his other hurtings Adams beckoned him.

He went, not unwillingly, or altogether willingly.

"I should think you might come and say 'Good morning' to me, Mr. Winton. I'm not Uncle Somerville," said Miss Carteret.

Winton said "Good morning," not too graciously, and Adams mocked him.

"Besides, being a bear with a sore head, Miss Carteret, thinks you're not much of a hustler," he said, coolly. "She knows the situation, knows that you were stupid enough to promise not to lay hands on the car when we could have pushed it out of the way without annoying anybody. None the less she thinks that you might find a way to go on building your railroad without breaking your word to Mr. Darrah."

Winton put his sore heartedness far enough behind him to smile and say: "Perhaps Miss Virginia will be good enough to tell me how."

"I don't know how," she rejoined, quickly. "And you'd only laugh at me if I should tell you what I thought of."

"You might try it and see," he ventured. "I'm desperate enough to take suggestions from anyone."

"Tell me something first. Is your railroad obliged to run straight along in the middle of this nice little ridge you're being making for it?"

"Why—no, temporarily, it can run anywhere. But the problem is to get the track laid beyond this crossing before your uncle gets back with a trainload of armed guards."

"Any kind of a track would do, wouldn't it?—just to secure the crossing?"

"I shall be more considerate of the safety of the ladies than you seem to be, Mr. Darrah," he retorted. "You are taking long chances in this game, sir."

The Rajah's laugh rumbled deep in his throat. "Not so very much longer than you have been taking during the past fortnight, my dear seh. But never mind; all's fair in love or war, and we appear to be having a little of both up ahead in Quatz creek, bah?"

Winton flushed angrily. It was no light thing to be mocked before his men, to say nothing of Miss Carteret standing within arms' reach on the railed platform of the Rosemary.

"Perhaps I shall give you back that word before we are through, Mr. Darrah," he snapped. Then to the eddy ing mob-waver: "Tools up, boys. We camp here for breakfast. Flanagan, send the 215 down for the cook's outfit."

The Rajah dropped his cigar, but in the snow and trod upon it.

"Possibly you will favor us with your company to breakfast in the Rosemary, Misteh Winton—you and Misteh Adams. No? Then I bid you a very good morning, gentlemen, and hope to see you later."

And he swung up to the steps of the private car.

Half an hour afterwards, the snow still whirling dizzily, Winton and Adams were cowering over a handful of hissing embers, drinking their commissary coffee and munching the camp cook's poor excuse for a breakfast.

"Jig's up pretty definitely, don't you think?" said the Technologist, with a glance around at the idle track force huddling for shelter under the lee of the flats and the decapod.

Winton shook his head and groaned. "I'm a ruined man, Morty."

Adams found his cigarette case.

"I guess that's so," he said, quite heartlessly. "Then: 'Hello! what is our friend the enemy up to now?'"

McGrath's freman was uncoupling the engine from the Rosemary, and Mr. Darrah, complacently lighting his after-breakfast cigar, came across to the hissing ember fire.

"A word with you gentlemen, if you will favor me," he began. "I am about to run down to Argentine on my engine, and I propose leaving the ladies in your charge, Miss Winton. Will you give me your word of honor, eh, that they will not be annoyed in my absence?"

Winton sprang up, losing his temper again.

"It's well, it's blessed, lucky, that you know your man, Mr. Darrah!" he exploded. "Go on about your business—which is to bring another army of deputy sheriffs down on us. I take it. You know well enough that no man of mine will lay a hand on your car so long as the ladies are in it."

The Rajah thanked him, dismissed the matter with a Chesterfieldian wave of his hand, climbed to his place in the cab, and the engine whirled away around the curve and disappeared in the snow-wreaths.

Adams rose and stretched himself.

"By Jove!" when it comes to cheek, pure and unadulterated, commend me to a Virginia gentleman who has acquired the proper modicum of western bluff," he laughed. Then, with a cavernous yawn dating back to the sleepless night, "Since there is nothing immediately pressing, I believe I'll go and call on the ladies. Won't you come along?"

"Not," said Winton, bravely, and the Technologist lounged off by himself.

Some little time afterward Winton, glooming over his handful of spitting embers, saw Adams and Virginia come out to stand together on the observation platform of the Rosemary. They talked long and earnestly, and when Winton was beginning to add the dull pang of unreasoning jealousy to his other hurtings Adams beckoned him.

He went, not unwillingly, or altogether willingly.

"I should think you might come and say 'Good morning' to me, Mr. Winton. I'm not Uncle Somerville," said Miss Carteret.

Winton said "Good morning," not too graciously, and Adams mocked him.

"Besides, being a bear with a sore head, Miss Carteret, thinks you're not much of a hustler," he said, coolly. "She knows the situation, knows that you were stupid enough to promise not to lay hands on the car when we could have pushed it out of the way without annoying anybody. None the less she thinks that you might find a way to go on building your railroad without breaking your word to Mr. Darrah."

Winton put his sore heartedness far enough behind him to smile and say: "Perhaps Miss Virginia will be good enough to tell me how."

"I don't know how," she rejoined, quickly. "And you'd only laugh at me if I should tell you what I thought of."

"You might try it and see," he ventured. "I'm desperate enough to take suggestions from anyone."

"Tell me something first. Is your railroad obliged to run straight along in the middle of this nice little ridge you're being making for it?"

"Why—no, temporarily, it can run anywhere. But the problem is to get the track laid beyond this crossing before your uncle gets back with a trainload of armed guards."

"Any kind of a track would do, wouldn't it?—just to secure the crossing?"

"I shall be more considerate of the safety of the ladies than you seem to be, Mr. Darrah," he retorted. "You are taking long chances in this game, sir."

The Rajah's laugh rumbled deep in his throat. "Not so very much longer than you have been taking during the past fortnight, my dear seh. But never mind; all's fair in love or war, and we appear to be having a little of both up ahead in Quatz creek, bah?"

Winton flushed angrily. It was no light thing to be mocked before his men, to say nothing of Miss Carteret standing within arms' reach on the railed platform of the Rosemary.

"Perhaps I shall give you back that word before we are through, Mr. Darrah," he snapped. Then to the eddy ing mob-waver: "Tools up, boys. We camp here for breakfast. Flanagan, send the 215 down for the cook's outfit."

The Rajah dropped his cigar, but in the snow and trod upon it.

"Possibly you will favor us with your company to breakfast in the Rosemary, Misteh Winton—you and Misteh Adams. No? Then I bid you a very good morning, gentlemen, and hope to see you later."

And he swung up to the steps of the private car.

Half an hour afterwards, the snow still whirling dizzily, Winton and Adams were cowering over a handful of hissing embers, drinking their commissary coffee and munching the camp cook's poor excuse for a breakfast.

"Jig's up pretty definitely, don't you think?" said the Technologist, with a glance around at the idle track force huddling for shelter under the lee of the flats and the decapod.

Winton shook his head and groaned. "I'm a ruined man, Morty."

Adams found his cigarette case.

"I guess that's so," he said, quite heartlessly. "Then: 'Hello! what is our friend the enemy up to now?'"

McGrath's freman was uncoupling the engine from the Rosemary, and Mr. Darrah, complacently lighting his after-breakfast cigar, came across to the hissing ember fire.

"A word with you gentlemen, if you will favor me," he began. "I am about to run down to Argentine on my engine, and I propose leaving the ladies in your charge, Miss Winton. Will you give me your word of honor, eh, that they will not be annoyed in my absence?"

Winton sprang up, losing his temper again.

"It's well, it's blessed, lucky, that you know your man, Mr. Darrah!" he exploded. "Go on about your business—which is to bring another army of deputy sheriffs down on us. I take it. You know well enough that no man of mine will lay a hand on your car so long as the ladies are in it."

The Rajah thanked him, dismissed the matter with a Chesterfieldian wave of his hand, climbed to his place in the cab, and the engine whirled away around the curve and disappeared in the snow-wreaths.

Adams rose and stretched himself.

"By Jove!" when it comes to cheek, pure and unadulterated, commend me to a Virginia gentleman who has acquired the proper modicum of western bluff," he laughed. Then, with a cavernous yawn dating back to the sleepless night, "Since there is nothing immediately pressing, I believe I'll go and call on the ladies. Won't you come along?"

"Not," said Winton, bravely, and the Technologist lounged off by himself.

Some little time afterward Winton, glooming over his handful of spitting embers, saw Adams and Virginia come out to stand together on the observation platform of the Rosemary. They talked long and earnestly, and when Winton was beginning to add the dull pang of unreasoning jealousy to his other hurtings Adams beckoned him.

He went, not unwillingly, or altogether willingly.

"I should think you might come and say 'Good morning' to me, Mr. Winton. I'm not Uncle Somerville," said Miss Carteret.

Winton said "Good morning," not too graciously, and Adams mocked him.

"Besides, being a bear with a sore head, Miss Carteret, thinks you're not much of a hustler," he said, coolly. "She knows the situation, knows that you were stupid enough to promise not to lay hands on the car when we could have pushed it out of the way without annoying anybody. None the less she thinks that you might find a way to go on building your railroad without breaking your word to Mr. Darrah."

Winton put his sore heartedness far enough behind him to smile and say: "Perhaps Miss Virginia will be good enough to tell me how."

"I don't know how," she rejoined, quickly. "And you'd only laugh at me if I should tell you what I thought of."

"You might try it and see," he ventured. "I'm desperate enough to take suggestions from anyone."

"Tell me something first. Is your railroad obliged to run straight along in the middle of this nice little ridge you're being making for it?"

"Why—no, temporarily, it can run anywhere. But the problem is to get the track laid beyond this crossing before your uncle gets back with a trainload of armed guards."

"Any kind of a track would do, wouldn't it?—just to secure the crossing?"

"I shall be more considerate of the safety of the ladies than you seem to be, Mr. Darrah," he retorted. "You are taking long chances in this game, sir."

The Rajah's laugh rumbled deep in his throat. "Not so very much longer than you have been taking during the past fortnight, my dear seh. But never mind; all's fair in love or war, and we appear to be having a little of both up ahead in Quatz creek, bah?"

Winton flushed angrily. It was no light thing to be mocked before his men, to say nothing of Miss Carteret standing within arms' reach on the railed platform of the Rosemary.

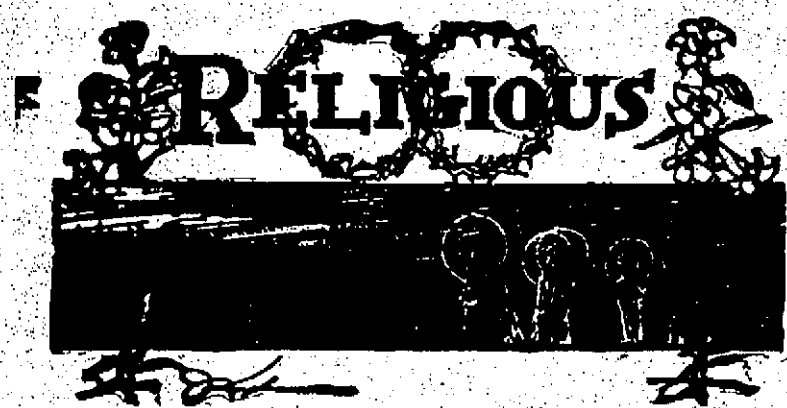

"Perhaps I shall give you back that word before we are through, Mr. Darrah," he snapped. Then to the eddy ing mob-waver: "Tools up, boys. We camp here for breakfast. Flanagan, send the 215 down for the cook's outfit."

The Rajah dropped his cigar, but in the snow and trod upon it.

"Possibly you will favor us with your company to breakfast in the Rosemary, Misteh Winton—you and Misteh Adams. No? Then I bid you a very good morning, gentlemen, and hope to see you later."

And he swung up to the steps of the private car.

Half an hour afterwards, the snow still whirling dizzily, Winton and Adams were cowering over a handful of hissing embers, drinking their commissary coffee and munching the camp cook's poor excuse for a breakfast.

RELIGIOUS

First Church of Christ, Scientist—Services are held in Phoebe block, West Milwaukee street. Sunday, 10:30 a. m.; Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.; Sunday open—Sacrament. Reading room open daily except Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m.

Presbyterian church—Rev. J. W. Laughlin, pastor. Morning worship, 10:30; subject for sermon, "An Old Cloak, Some Books and a Friend"; the congregation will join in the union meeting at the Baptist church in the evening.

Baptist church—Richard M. Vaughan, pastor. 10:30, morning worship, sermon by the pastor, "Thought, Power in Its Relation to Health and Character"; 12:00, Sunday school; 6:30, Christian Endeavor society; 7:30, union service at the Baptist church, address—"Crime"—by Hon. Pliny Norcross.

Mary Kimball mission—100 South Jackson street. Sunday school at 2 p. m.; preaching at 8 p. m.; topic—"The Master is come and calleth for Thee"; meetings Wednesday and Friday evenings. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Congregational church—Robert C. Denison, minister. Morning services, 10:30 o'clock, sermon by the pastor on "The Hosts of the Lord"; Bible school, 12 m.; Young People's meeting, 6:30 p. m.; union evening service at the Baptist church addressed by Hon. Pliny Norcross. In view of the fact that the pastor leaves for Scotland this week, the church committee voted that the morning service be specially designated as a mid-summer church rally. Let all our members be in their places.—John M. Whitehead, clerk.

Christ church—Rev. Jno. McKinney, pastor. Fourth Sunday after Trinity.

JANESVILLE MARKET REPORT.
Quotations on Grain and Produce for The Gazette.

July 6, 1906.
FLOUR—1st Patent, $1.15 to $1.25.
Wheat—Chicago (No. 1 and 2 Northern) $1.10 to $1.15.
EAB CORN—$1.10 to $1.15 per ton.
RYE—$1.10 per ton.
BARLEY—$1.10 to $1.15.
OATS—$1.10 to $1.15.
TIMOTHY STRAW—Totals at $1.35 to $1.50 a ton.
Buy at $1.35 to $1.50.
PEAS—Pure, corn and oats, $2.00 to $2.50 per ton.
BURN—$2.00 to $2.50 per ton.
STANDARD MILKINGS—$2.00 to $2.50 per ton.
COW MILK—$1.10 to $1.15 per ton.
CORN MEAL—$1.10 to $1.15 per ton.
HAY—Per ton, $1.10 to $1.15.
STRAW—Per ton, $1.10 to $1.15.
BUTTER—Dairy, 20c.
CREAMERY—23c.
POTATOES—50 to 60c.
ROOTS—Strictly fresh, 10c.

LANDLADY WAS TACTFUL.

Knew How to Handle Boarders Without Having Any Trouble with Them.

The boarding house mistress looked at her latest "guest" with a firm but cheerful expression of countenance, and allowed the faintest hint of a smile to play over her features, relates the Rebooth Sunday Herald.

"Oh, no. I never have any trouble with my boarders," she said, briskly. "I don't see any need of nagging 'em if they don't do just as they would in their own homes, and as they'd like to be done by; but I generally let them see in some way when I don't approve of their doings."

"For instance, there was Mr. Cranston, one of my table boarders; a real well-meaning young man, but pretty careless. He sits down at the end of the table near those little shelves where I keep my extra china, and he got in the habit last summer of coming in in a hurry and laying his hat right on top of the plates."

"Well, it didn't look just right, but I didn't nag him about it. When he'd done it half a dozen times I just put a sheet of sticky flypaper in on top of the plates."

"He never said anything about it, for he knew what I meant about that night. That's why I say if folk will use tact they've no need to have any trouble with boarders—not a bit."

D. C. Spencer, Stanhope, son of a member of the British parliament, committed suicide at Riverside, Calif., last night. Melancholia was the cause.

Does Your Stomach Bother You?

Dr. Shoop's Restorative Cures All Distressing Stomach Troubles Through the Inside Nerves.

As you value your health and happiness don't neglect to care for the slightest stomach pain—don't let it go. As the first sign of distress use Dr. Shoop's Restorative and all these troubles. These aches are signals—they are symptoms of coming disease—is it wise to ignore them? You who never eat a hearty meal without a sense of fullness, followed by a period of lassitude or nervousness—beware. Neglect these conditions and you surely invite distressing disorders—you will become a nervous, miserable, dyspeptic. Do you experience any of these symptoms? If so, you are in need of a restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a powerful, yet gentle, restorative. It acts on the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, the bowels, the nerves, the blood, the system. It is a tonic, a restorative, a cure for all stomach troubles. It is a powerful, yet gentle, restorative. It acts on the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, the bowels, the nerves, the blood, the system. It is a tonic, a restorative, a cure for all stomach troubles.

PEOPLE'S DRUG CO. AND KING'S

COOPER'S MEDICINES

In Great Demand.

The remarkable demand for the New Discovery medicines, with which L. T. Cooper has been having such wonderful success in the cure of Stomach and Kidney troubles, Catarrh, Rheumatism and other diseases, seems to increase every day. His visit in New Orleans for the past few weeks has created a sensation in the South, the like of which has never been known.

His remedies are well known in this section of the country, and the famous cures which they have effected in St. Louis, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, and other large cities of the central western states are well remembered. The retail druggists say they have never known any medicines for which there was such a constant demand and the continued reports of marvelous cures that are being published everywhere are a topic of universal interest.

The newspapers of New Orleans are still printing interviews with those whose cases are most extraordinary and as this, the last week of Cooper's visit, draws to a close, the excitement seems to have increased rather than abated.

One case in particular that has attracted especial attention during the past few days is that of Mr. Leon Labusquiere, 1014 Burgundy St., New Orleans, who had been sick for fifteen years and had been treated for various diseases without result. There was a bright twinkle in the man's eye and a radiant smile on his face as he greeted his interviewer the other day, which seemed to bespeak anything but poor health. "I shall be pleased to state my experience," he said, in answer to a request, "for my case has been a most remarkable one, and I am glad of the opportunity to tell the public what these wonderful medicines have done for me. My suffering for the past fifteen years has been more than I can describe, for during all that time I have seldom had a well day. My appetite was very irregular. Sometimes I could not get enough to eat, and at other times the very sight of food would make me sick. I suffered greatly from constipation. I did not seem to get any strength from what I ate, was always tired, and the slightest exertion would wear me out completely. It was a great effort for me to attend to my duties. I was very nervous and at night I could not rest well. I would wake up in the morning feeling as tired as when I went to bed. There were few days that I did not have a dreadful headache and at times would have queer dizzy spells. I thought for a time that I had Catarrh and doctored for it, but without relief. Nothing I could do seemed to benefit me, and when I began to hear of the wonderful success Cooper was having with his medicines in the treatment of cases similar to mine, I began using his medicines."

"After I had taken his New Discovery medicine only a few days a horrible tanworm of enormous size, passed from my system and then I knew what had been causing me all this trouble. From that time I improved rapidly and now feel well and strong again. I will gladly give any information I can to any one who is suffering as I was."

The sale of Cooper's medicine in Janesville has been phenomenal and at E. B. Heimstreet's drug store, where the remedies are sold in this city, it is said that some very remarkable cures have been reported right here at home.

The remarkable demand for the New Discovery medicines, with which L. T. Cooper has been having such wonderful success in the cure of Stomach and Kidney troubles, Catarrh, Rheumatism and other diseases, seems to increase every day. His visit in New Orleans for the past few weeks has created a sensation in the South, the like of which has never been known.

His remedies are well known in this section of the country, and the famous cures which they have effected in St. Louis, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, and other large cities of the central western states are well remembered. The retail druggists say they have never known any medicines for which there was such a constant demand and the continued reports of marvelous cures that are being published everywhere are a topic of universal interest.

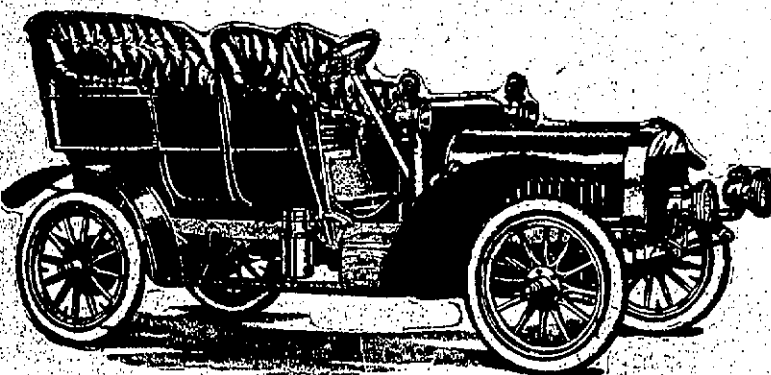

The newspapers of New Orleans are still printing interviews with those whose cases are most extraordinary and as this, the last week of Cooper's visit, draws to a close, the excitement seems to have increased rather than abated.

One case in particular that has attracted especial attention during the past few days is that of Mr. Leon Labusquiere, 1014 Burgundy St., New Orleans, who had been sick for fifteen years and had been treated for various diseases without result. There was a bright twinkle in the man's eye and a radiant smile on his face as he greeted his interviewer the other day, which seemed to bespeak anything but poor health. "I shall be pleased to state my experience," he said, in answer to a request, "for my case has been a most remarkable one, and I am glad of the opportunity to tell the public what these wonderful medicines have done for me. My suffering for the past fifteen years has been more than I can describe, for during all that time I have seldom had a well day. My appetite was very irregular. Sometimes I could not get enough to eat, and at other times the very sight of food would make me sick. I suffered greatly from constipation. I did not seem to get any strength from what I ate, was always tired, and the slightest exertion would wear me out completely. It was a great effort for me to attend to my duties. I was very nervous and at night I could not rest well. I would wake up in the morning feeling as tired as when I went to bed. There were few days that I did not have a dreadful headache and at times would have queer dizzy spells. I thought for a time that I had Catarrh and doctored for it, but without relief. Nothing I could do seemed to benefit me, and when I began to hear of the wonderful success Cooper was having with his medicines in the treatment of cases similar to mine, I began using his medicines."

"After I had taken his New Discovery medicine only a few days a horrible tanworm of enormous size, passed from my system and then I knew what had been causing me all this trouble. From that time I improved rapidly and now feel well and strong again. I will gladly give any information I can to any one who is suffering as I was."

The sale of Cooper's medicine in Janesville has been phenomenal and at E. B. Heimstreet's drug store, where the remedies are sold in this city, it is said that some very remarkable cures have been reported right here at home.

"EAT UP THE HILLS"

In the phraseology of the motorist, the Four Cylinder Rambler, $1750, "eats up the hills"—climbs them without any effort—walks up same as if it were on the level road.

Power, Simplicity, Beauty, Economy.

every point looked for by the automobilist, is fully covered by the Rambler 4 Cylinder, and the price is particularly inviting—$1750. You can go to the factory at Kenosha in a few hours from here. Inspect the car in Janesville.

Telephone or write me. I will be pleased to demonstrate to you.

HARRY M. VALE,
BELOIT, - WIS.

HOMES FOR THOUSANDS

One and a quarter million acres to be opened to settlement on the

SHOSHONE RESERVATION
Dates of registration July 16th to 31st.
EXCURSION RATES

Low rates from all points, less than one fare for the round trip from Chicago, daily July 12th to 29th via

The only all rail route to Shoshoni, Wyo., the reservation border.

W. B. KNISKERN, P. T. M., Chicago & Northwestern Ry., Chicago.
Please send to my address pamphlets, maps and information concerning the opening of the Shoshone or Wind River reservation to settlement.

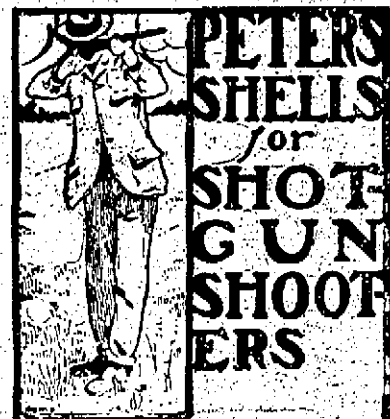

(Cut out this Coupon)
NAME _____
STREET _____
CITY _____
STATE _____

Is Your Fishing Outfit Complete?

No fisherman should start out on his summer vacation without being sure that his tackle is all in good shape. Look it over carefully, and come to us for anything that may be missing. Many a big fish has "got away" because of a poor rod, reel, line or hook. Don't let this happen with you, as it's embarrassing to have to tell about the fish you lost. We have genuine

Diamond Steel, Split Bamboo and Lancewood Rods; Shakespeare Reels, Harrison Lines and Hooks, Tackle Box, etc.

We have everything in the way of "Shooters" Supplies

For Trap shooting we have the
Peters, U. M. C. and Winchester Shells.

H. L. McNAMARA.

The Manager of the B. & A.

A RAILROAD STORY BY VAUGHN KESTER
Illustrated by Parker

AN ambitious young railroad manager undertakes to put a bankrupt road on a paying basis. What time he can spare from his arduous duties he devotes to trying to win a young woman. Handicapped by the fact that his father is a convict, though unjustly, he makes a poor race against a vicious and unscrupulous rival. A strike adds to his troubles, but the opportunity to save his town from forest fires makes him the hero of the hour. And the girl? You can have as many guesses as you like on her. The story will be printed in this paper, beginning in a short time.

WHAT REVIEWERS SAY

New York Commercial Advertiser
A strong, straight, downright story of common men and women taken out of the common life about us and surrounded with a halo of romance.

San Francisco Chronicle
A strikingly good love story—fresh, original, full of vigorous and manly activity and presenting one or more interesting types of American character with which fiction has dealt sparingly.

Indianapolis News
The author has caught the rhythm of a train as it clicks over the joints of the steel rails and pitched his story to it. There is no lagging in its incidents, but it moves with an easy swing that carries the reader along.

Look for The Manager of the B. & A. in This Paper

GREAT RESULTS FOR A LITTLE MONEY

THAT'S WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU INVEST IN A

GAZETTE WANT AD.

THE COST IS BUT A TRIFLE. 3 LINES 3 TIMES, 25c.

TRY ONE